Heroism of Romulus Soldier Saves Life

ROMULUS—United States Army commanders of the Headquarters 1 Field Force, Vietnam, have announced the awarding of the Army Commendation Medal with 'V' device to a young Romulus Township soldier whose "heroic" actions saved the life of a fellow soldier.

Honored by his superiors was Specialist Four William Sumner, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Sumner of 9016 Gabriel Street.

Sp-4 Sumner, a 1966 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, has been in military service since April 1968 and in Vietnam since early 1969.

HE IS assigned to Troop B, Second Squadron, First Cavalry. The commendation medal presentation was for heroism by Sumner when engaged in military operations against an armed hostile force July 7, 1969 while serving as an armed tank crew member at Luong Son, Vietnam.

Sp-4 Sumner is the second son of the Sumner family in military service. An older brother, James, 26, is presently assigned to Fort Hood Texas.

The citation awarding the Army Commendation Medal states:

"Specialist Four Sumner distinguished himself by heroic actions in connection with military operations against an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam on July 7, 1969, while serving as an armored tank vehicle crew member with Troop B, 2d Squadron, 1st Cavalry. On that day the troop's firebase at Luong Son came under attack from enemy mortars, rockets, small arms fire and sapper teams.

In the initial contact

WILLIAM SUMNER

Specialist Sumner's tank commander became seriously injured. Showing great courage and determination, Specialist Sumner returned accurate and devastating machine gun fire and succeeded in disorganizing and confusing the approaching enemy.

His quick thinking enabled his tank commander to be evacuated. Specialist

Sumner's bravery in the face of the enemy was directly responsible for saving the life of a fellow soldier and served as an outstanding example for others.

Specialist Sumner's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army."

County Supervisors Appoint Carl Morris

Three local officials have been appointed to the new County Election Scheduling Committee by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for one-year terms. They are Lincoln Park City Clerk William Suzore, Brownstown Township Clerk Rose Legg, and Carl W. Morris, President of the Romulus Board of Education.

Republican Club Schedules Meet

ROMULUS—The Romulus Republican Club issued a call Monday urging Republicans residing in Romulus Township to attend their upcoming meeting.

In announcing the meeting to be held Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 8 p.m., in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, located in Romulus, club officials stated:

"The time has come for all citizens of Romulus to open their eyes and get off their chairs.

"All the grumbling and groaning and complaining will get you nowhere unless you become involved in the political scene.

"Yes, taxes are ridiculous for what is offered! manufacturing and low cost housing are all over the place, but still taxes are rising!

"Our other problems can be discussed at our meetings, so come out and join the Romulus Republican Club."

ROMULUS' NEW MUNICIPAL COMPLEX STARTED—Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Municipal Building and Library Complex for Romulus were held Sunday. The $1,975,000 building program was started at Wayne and Goddard Roads, southeast corner. Among the officials attending the groundbreaking were: Edmund Bizek, former Romulus supervisor and now member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors; Howard Dubisky, president of the Romulus Building Authority; Roderick E. Smith, Romulus supervisor; Edward L. Stuart, second vice-president of the Manufacturers National Bank, and formerly with the Building Authority; Steve Riga, regional vice-president in charge of branch offices for Manufacturers Bank; Leo Kalota, second vice-president and manager of the Romulus Branch of Manufacturers National Bank; Romulus Trustee, James E. Stewart, Edmund L. Galazka, member of the Building Authority, and manager of the Romulus Branch of National Bank of Detroit; Joseph Gallagher, building department manager; Joseph Wallis Romulus trustee.

New Municipal Complex Construction Is Started

Officials Attend Groundbreaking

By HENRY CANTIN

ROMULUS—Construction of the first phase of Romulus Township's new multi-million dollar Municipal Complex is officially underway.

Groundbreaking ceremonies initiating the start of this milestone in Romulus Township history were held last Sunday (Jan. 11) at 2 p.m.

Some 25 to 30 dignitaries including banking officials, members of the administrative staff of Romulus government and residents were participants in the groundbreaking.

Tool Firm To Build In Romulus

ROMULUS—The Rotary Tool Industries of 4451 West Jefferson, Detroit, plans construction of a steel office and shop in Romulus Township, the Building Department announced.

A building permit calling for the erection of a one-story 70 by 120-foot structure has been issued by the department, Joseph B. Gallagher manager of Romulus Building Department announced.

The office and shop is slated for the northside of Northline Road between Middlebelt and Inkster Roads. It is to cost an estimated $110,000. Building permit fees amounted to $390.

The initial phase of the Municipal Complex will consist of a Municipal Building and Library.

A BOND ISSUE in the amount of $1,975,000 to finance cost of construction has been approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

The Bond Issue was sold to the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit through its Romulus Branch at six percent interest.

The Municipal Complex that will also include a Police Headquarters, and Community Center in its building, will be built on a 16-acre land site, located on the southeast corner section of Wayne and Goddard Roads.

The Municipal Building and Library will embrace eight of the 16-acre site. (Continued on Page 3-A)

ROMULUS' NEW SUBDIVISION—Shown above is an architect's sketch of a large residential project proposed for Romulus Township. A re-zoning petition to permit construction has already been approved. The Forsythe Development Company of Southfield, Mich., plans the large residential complex on some 80 acres, located on the northwest corner of Pennsylvania Road and Huron River Drive. Displaying the sketch are left to right Joseph Wallis, secretary of the Romulus Planning Commission; and Harold Reiner, Romulus Deputy Assessor.

Civil Service Appeals Rule on Check-off

The Michigan Civil Service Commission has announced it would appeal two circuit court decisions invalidating its orders withdrawing dues check-off privileges of two local unions which the Commission found to have conducted illegal strikes against the State.

In an order issued June 27 of this year the Commission removed state payroll deduction privileges for locals 1342 at the Lincoln Park Warehouse of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and 567 of the Lapeer State Home and Training School for one year.

The State ceased dues collection and remittance to the unions July 5.

The Michigan State Employees Union (AFSCME) appealed in Wayne and Lapeer County Circuit Courts.

State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald said the Commission would ask the Wayne and Lapeer Circuit

Courts to stay any order issued as a result of the decisions pending its review by the State Court of Appeals.

"As we read these decisions," DeWald said, "they clearly reject the" (Continued on Page 3-A)

Concerned Parents Seek Area Programs

ROMULUS—The Romulus Concerned Parents Association has been meeting weekly at the United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive Street.

Organized through the Family and Neighborhood

Services Agency, and based upon prevailing concern about recreational facilities for the youngsters of the township. The group has been investigating possibilities for neighborhood programs.

Chairmen have been appointed from various areas of the community, designated by school districts: Harrison Elementary School, Mrs. Mary Thomas; Mt. Pleasant (Continued on Page 3-A)

Services Detailed

Romulus Library In New Structure Soon

ROMULUS—The biggest news of 1969 for friends and patrons of the Romulus Library was the announcement by the Romulus Building Authority that bonds had been sold to provide funds for a new library and municipal building.

Bids on the construction contract were opened on Dec. 18, and construction is scheduled to begin in late winter.

The new buildings will be located on Township owned property near the corner of Wayne and Goddard Roads.

Romulus Library is a member of the Wayne County Federated Library System. Membership in the System provides the opportunity of receiving expert professional supervision and assistance as well as of sharing in the economics of large-quantity purchasing of books and supplies.

THE TOTAL book

circulation in 1969 in Romulus was approximately 25,000, an average of 490 books per week.

The book collection consists of some 13,000 volumes. Of this total, 6,300 are juvenile books and 6,700 provide adult level reading. There are special browsing areas for mystery lovers, "western" fans, young people, and beginning readers and pre-school children.

Within the limitations of the budget, new books are purchased on regular basis throughout the year and are processed by the System Service Center.

***

RECENT ADDITIONS to the Romulus collection include such best-selling titles as:

The Godfather by Puzo; The Seven Minutes by Wallace; The Love Machine by Susann; In This House of Brede by Godden; The Andromeda Strain by Crichton; The Promise by Potok; and My Life and Prophecies by Dixon.

Other new titles of interest are The Old Person in Your Home by Poe; Fix Your Volkswagen by Johnson; Savory Stews by Savage; The Journals of Lewis and Clark edited by DeVoto; and Men Without Countries by Weems.

The Wayne County Federated Library System provides an inter-loan service to all member libraries. This procedure makes available to local patrons books from other member libraries as well as from the headquarters collection, Michigan State Library, and the Detroit Public Library.

Students and casual readers alike find this service very helpful.

The present staff in the Romulus Library includes Mrs. Emory M. Seestadt, directing; Miss Beverly Elton, aid; and Cathy Lorenz, page.

The public is cordially invited to visit the library at 36541 Goddard Road.

Students Honored

ROMULUS—A reception honoring the 87 new members of the Stoic Society at Eastern Michigan University was held Tuesday, Jan. 13 in the Alumni Lounge of McKenny Union.

Among those honored were two Romulus students. They are:

Conrad L. Painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Painter, of 10580 Harrison, who is a sophomore majoring in mathematics.

Miss Roberta Politz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Margaret Politz, of 9735 Marc, who is a sophomore majoring in Education for the Mentally Handicapped.

The Stoic Society is EMU's oldest continuous honorary society. It was started in 1909 by J. Stuart Lathers, professor of Oratory.

New members are selected from all scholastically-eligible sophomores and juniors by recommendations of fellow students and faculty members.

County School District Airs Day Training Center's Role

The vast majority of children being enrolled in the Wayne County Day Training Program are severely retarded and multiply handicapped.

These children are not toilet trained.

These children cannot ambulate independently.

They have no speech.

Most of these children cannot feed themselves.

The Wayne County Intermediate School District recently held a seminar for Day Training staff members to provide them with more effective techniques in working with children at their respective centers.

***

THE STAFF SEMINAR, first in a series, was held at the Southwest Day Training Center in Westland, Michigan.

The Day Training Program in Wayne County is administered for the Michigan Department of Mental Health by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Children are provided transportation, a hot meal at noon, and basic training in small groups with maximum individual attention.

There is no charge to families whose children participate in this tax-supported program.

Intermediate office staff members served as resource persons for the seminar. They are available for consultation for all children who are retarded and not educable who are enrolled in centers operated by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

***

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS, Mrs. Esther Hart and Mrs. Nancy Vennen, demonstrated at the seminar various techniques for lifting, diapering, toileting. They also illustrated methods which motivate children in movement education and physical development.

Mrs. Paula Biglin, Occupational Therapist, demonstrated techniques for feeding and promoting speech and communication development.

Basic material in child growth and development, and its implications for the multiply handicapped day training child, was provided by Mrs. Ann Luedtke, Master Teacher.

JAMES GREINER, Administrator of the Wayne County Day Training Program, indicates that over sixty Day Training children have evidenced such progress within the last year that they have been enrolled in Regional Programs for the trainable, which are also operated by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

"The Day Training Program is a valuable community service which offers needed basic training for children while, at the same time, offering some relief for twenty-four hour care of the children. This service allows many families to remain intact within the community rather than institutionalizing the severely multiply handicapped child," Greiner indicated.

The Wayne County Day Training Program provides year-round services for over 250 children in eight centers.

Inquiry for additional information should be made to the Wayne County Day Training Program, 15th floor Kales Building, 76 West Adams, Detroit 48226.

Coach Bear Bryant, of Alabama, played football there while a student.

Several of the old W.C. Fields movies are being re-released.

Zak Re-elected Chairman by Supervisors

Albert J. Zak, of Hamtramck, has been elected to his second consecutive term as chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Zak was unopposed as he garnered 20 votes in being chosen by his fellow supervisors to lead them for another year-six more votes than he received a year ago in being chosen to head the County's first directly-elected legislative body.

Four supervisors abstained in the secret balloting and two were absent.

***

AS THEIR first vice chairman in history, the supervisors chose James DeSana, of Wyandotte, D-District 23. Unopposed, he received 21 votes, with four abstentions. There was only one absentee when DeSana was elected.

The vice chairman will preside over the board in the absence of the chairman, a task that previously fell to the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. A year ago DeSana was the major challenger to Zak for the chairmanship.

Zak, 60, a Democrat who resides in Hamtramck and represents District 8, is a career public official. He was serving on the County Civil Service Commission when he ran for the Board of Supervisors.

Previous to that, he served four years as a state representative, 10 years as Hamtramck city clerk and 11 years as Hamtramck mayor.

HE THANKED the members of the Board of Supervisors "for your vote of confidence" and declared that the elected board achieved "an enviable record" during its first year.

"Upon being elected chairman of the Board of Supervisors, I stated that we must become responsible and accountable to our constituents," he stated. "I am proud to say that you have proven yourselves to be most responsible."

He cited the balanced county budget, resistance to "pressure to initiate a give-away of taxpayers money," and legislation earmarking revenue from extra voted millage for capital improvement.

As achievements, he cited the addition of 27 employees at Juvenile Court, the decision to build a new extended care facility at Wayne County General Hospital and plans for a second Juvenile Court and Youth Home west of Detroit.

Although supervisors are elected for two-year terms, a recently-adopted State law requires them to choose their chairman and vice chairman annually. Members of the Board of Supervisors will be up for election in the fall of 1970.

***

ZAK ATTRIBUTED his gain of support among board members to the fact that "we've gotten to know each other a lot better through working together." He said he believed crime prevention would be the major problem facing government during the 1970s.

For Jumbo Jet Arrival

Supervisors Study Loan to Break Construction Impasse at Metro

In an unusual move, the Wayne County Board of Supervisors may loan $3-million to break a construction impasse that threatens to delay operation of the 350-passenger "jumbo" jets at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport.

Construction of passenger and baggage facilities needed to accommodate the huge Boeing 747-type jets has been stalled due to inability to sell a $69-million bond issue in the current poor market for public bonds.

The loan by the Board of Supervisors would permit expansion of baggage handling facilities, considered the most serious bottleneck likely to result from the jumbo jets.

***

THE PLAN, suggested by Board Chairman Albert J. Zak, was approved by the supervisors transportation, industrial and commercial development committee, meeting Jan. 6.

The committee recommended that Zak be authorized to appoint a special committee to work out details of what funds would be used. The plan went to the ways and means committee Jan. 12 and would require approval by the full board which meets tomorrow, Jan. 15.

Ordinarily, construction at the airport, a self-supporting facility, is financed by revenue bonds which are paid for from airport revenues.

***

THE LOAN from the Board of Supervisors would be repaid in similar fashion.

The Board of Supervisors recently raised the maximum interest on County bonds to conform with the Legislature's increase of the State interest ceiling on public bonds from six to eight percent. This was done to attract buyers for the airport bonds. But officials of the County Road Commission which operates the airport, said it may take as long as three months to sell any bonds.

The time element is important because construction of the facilities planned to accommodate the B-747's will take about a year and the big airplanes are expected to be ready to use the airport late this year or very early next year.

Fearing "chaos" if the huge planes unload into inadequate facilities, the Board of Supervisors recently directed the Road Commission to bar them from the airport until adequate facilities are ready.

***

"WE ARE not against the B-747's," said Supervisor Edmund Bizek, of Romulus, D-District 24, chairman of the transportation, industrial and commercial development committee. "We want the 747s to operate from the airport the very first day they are available to do so. We are using every means to see that this is possible."

In other matters, Bizek's committee received a report from the Road Commission on a number of possible rapid transit routes between downtown Detroit and two airports — Metropolitan Airport and Selfridge Air Force Base.

Bizek said his committee will invite officials of the Southeastern Michigan

Transportation Authority to a meeting to discuss the possible routes and "where we go from here" in development of rapid transit lines.

***

HIS COMMITTEE also was informed that full restaurant service will be available in the airport's South Terminal by Feb. 15.

The terminal restaurant was gutted by fire in December, 1968. The new facility will be considerably larger than the old.

Members of the transportation, industrial and commercial development committee are, in addition to Bizek:

Joseph Cardinal, Dearborn, D-District 21, vice chairman; James DeSana, Wyandotte, D-District 23; Rudy Hickey, Ecorse, D-District 18; George F. Killeen, Detroit, D-District 2; John Lesinski, Dearborn, D-District 20; Thomas P. O'Rourke, Detroit, D-District 14; Robert L. Tripp, Lincoln Park, D-District 22; and Ralph Patrick Turco, Westland, D-District 25.

TOYOTA'S EXPERIMENTAL EX-II—Designed primarily as city transportation, the EX-II is Toyota's design concept of a vehicle for future shopping and commuter needs. The model pictured and two other variations — slated for industrial use and leisure transportation — debuted recently at the Tokyo Motor Show. Toyota executives have announced no production plans for these research prototypes.

Area's Acute Cold Wave Brings 'Be Prepare' Tips

With Michigan in the grip of Winter's first acute cold wave, State Police Director Fredrick E. Davids advised state residents to "be prepared and increase individual and family sufficiency."

Davids, who doubles as the state's Director of Civil Defense, made note of several areas of concern when snow storms, bitter cold and winter woes strike city and farm.

"The idea of getting ready to live without utilities and services which normally keep things running smoothly, is the theme of winter preparedness," Davids said. He pointed out that the lack of electricity, no deliveries, no way to get groceries, and no way to get out for a day or two calls for some extra planning.

WHILE MICHIGAN

generally doesn't experience blizzard isolation common to some states, snow and ice storms can cause interruptions that will test a family's self-reliance.

"When a storm warning is issued," Davids said, "check battery powered equipment, especially flashlights, radios and cooking facilities. Be sure you have enough heating fuel, stock extra, easily prepared foods and beware of over-heating stoves and furnaces." Davids noted that the farther you live from "civilization" the earlier you should get stocked up for the storm; isolation comes faster in the country than the city.

Another problem, overexertion, comes hard on the heels of a heavy snowfall. Davids said that each year more than 300 Americans are killed by winter weather; many from heart attacks brought on by snow shoveling. "The best policy for anyone in less than prime physical condition is to leave the shovel in the corner, until you have help with snow removal," Davids said.

Farm families have special problems with winter storms. Emergency measures for feeding and watering livestock should be carefully planned. Family isolation may be more severe in outstate regions and emergency preparations are vital.

Davids believes that current weather forecasting services plus local Civil Defense programs will alert Michigan citizens to any potentially dangerous storm. "But," according to the C.D. Director, "a few extra precautions and a little planning can make any family winterized."

Supervisors Appoint Three

Three local officials have been appointed to the new County Election Scheduling Committee by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for one-year terms. They are Lincoln Park City Clerk William Suzore, Brownstown Township Clerk Rose Legg, and Carl W. Morris, President of the Romulus Board of Education.

The County Election Scheduling Committee was established under a 1968 State Act. Under the Act, the County Clerk is also a member of the Committee which has the responsibility of setting the dates for elections within the County.

Full time governmental employees receive no compensation for serving on the Committee. Mrs. Legg was nominated by Supervisor James DeSana, of Wyandotte, D-District 23; Suzore was nominated by Supervisor Robert L. Tripp, Lincoln Park, D-District 22; and Morris was nominated by Supervisor Edmund Bizek, Romulus, D-District 24. The appointments were made Jan. 5.

THE SUCCESSFUL bidders are:

Osgood Construction Company for the architectural contract.

Norman L. Boelter Company, Inc., for the mechanical contract.

And the Demers Electric Company for the electrical contract.

Rezoning Rejected

BELLEVILLE—A rezoning petition seeking a change in the residential classification of 38 acres of land, located on the northeast corner of Belleville and Ecorse Roads, to industrial, has been rejected by the Van Buren Planning Commission.

The petition filed by the G.O.Y. Inc., of Warren, Mich., was disapproved by the township planners because the plat maps in the application showed the area was completely surrounded by single-family residences.

"WE ARE not against the B-747's," said Supervisor Edmund Bizek, of Romulus, D-District 24, chairman of the transportation, industrial and commercial development

Complex is Started

A THREE MEMBER Romulus Building Authority will operate the Municipal Complex during the life of the bond issue.

Romulus Township officials will lease quarters. Upon full payment of the outstanding bonds, ownership will be transferred to the Township.

Among officials at the groundbreaking ceremonies were: Howard Dubisky, president of the Building Authority; Leo M. Kalota, second vice-president and manager of the Romulus Branch of the Manufacturers National Bank, secretary of the Authority; Edmund L. Galazka, manager of the Romulus Branch of the National Bank of Detroit, Authority's Treasurer; Edward L. Stuart, former manager of the Romulus Branch of Manufacturers National Bank, until his transfer, who was instrumental in setting up the Authority.

Steve Riga, regional vice-president in charge of branch offices for Manufacturers National Bank was also present.

OTHERS INCLUDED Romulus Supervisor Roderick E. Smith, Trustees Joseph Wallis and James C. Stewart, Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of Romulus Building Department; Charles Hazen, industrial coordinator; Edmund Bizek, former township supervisor and now member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

The spade work at groundbreaking was handled by Dubisky and Supervisor Smith.

ROMULUS—The Romulus Service Mothers Club announced that they had sent 79 Christmas boxes to service men and women from the Romulus area.

A total of $400 was spent on the food parcels, the funds were raised by the Mothers Club through benefits, said Mrs. Josephine Rehkopf, treasurer.

While most of the boxes went to APO addresses, said Mrs. Rehkopf, recipients were known to be in Vietnam, Korea and Gennany.

Mrs. Rehkopf welcomed all service mothers to meet with the Mothers Club on the Notes will soon be coming home asking for volunteers from the communities to begin planning specific programs.

Livestock Payment Approved

ROMULUS—Reimbursement to Clarence W. Ries, of 29913 Superior, for livestock destroyed by stray dogs was authorized by Romulus Township Trustees.

Ries claimed that stray dogs destroyed three of his sheep in June, 1969. He valued the ewes at approximately $80.

Alfred H. Perry, township clerk, is to check with the Township Attorney John E. Young as to the value of the livestock and amount to be paid as provided for under Township Ordinance.

Community College Fills a Big Gap

There's more to the Wayne County Community College than meets the eye.

To local residents, the college is the three centers immediately visible--at the Milton Middle School in Inkster, at John Glenn High School in Westland, and in New Boston.

But there are 26 centers in all scattered around the Detroit area from New Boston to the Grosse Pointes.

There are offerings at the different branches of the college this semester that appeal to almost every kind of need among Wayne County residents. This is, after all, what the college was supposed to be all about.

Automotive technology is one of the courses aimed at bringing basic knowledge of the auto industry, from assembly line to service work, to citizens of the county who want it. The result would hopefully be the addition of well-trained personnel to the work force of the auto industry.

There are four courses offered in law enforcement, to upgrade the present training of area police officers, and to put others on the track toward becoming well-trained members of Wayne County police organizations. The complexities of the law enforcement field today make these courses particularly worthwhile, providing training where it is most needed.

Data processing and computer programming courses, at low cost, may put many more Wayne County citizens to work in this expanding field.

We think the Wayne County Community College has made a most creditable start. It has done the job the hard way, with little money to finance it and often too little public support.

We encourage Wayne County citizens to take advantage of the offerings of the community college, to see for themselves why the college deserves public support.

Pollution Problem Needs Local Action

The State of California is currently agonizing over the problem of air pollution control.

The Legislature of the state recently passed into law a measure that would eventually ban conventional gasoline-driven automobiles in the state. The repercussions of a law like that must be perfectly obvious.

Especially for Western Wayne County, where so many citizens depend for their livelihoods on the automobile industry, such laws might even seem grossly unfair and punitive.

But there is good reason to be concerned about the problems that caused California to come to such desperate measures. Air pollution control is fast becoming an absolute necessity if life is to be sustained in our urban areas in the decades ahead.

It seems impossible that our air could become so polluted that life and death would be at stake. But scientists with apparently little outside interest claim that the situation will come to that faster than we think.

Most certainly, the problem can no longer be ignored.

It is of vital concern to Western Wayne County that steps be taken soon by the major automobile companies to plan for the day when gasoline-powered autos will become a luxury we cannot afford. Some creditable attempts have already been made, but more must be done.

This is the kind of issue Western Wayne County should involve itself in debating and solving. If the situation continues to deteriorate, this area could be one of the first to be hurt.

A WORD FITLY SPOKEN

Cops Aren't All Bad

By James Bradley

Policemen all over the country are coming under increasing fire from militant groups and others who view them with suspicion and call them some very uncomplimentary names.

The job of wearing the uniform of "the city's finest" is becoming a chore that is hard to bear. Many, in fact, have laid down their guns and taken up another line of work rather than face what they deem unfair or burdensome conditions.

So it is with particular pleasure that we in the Wayne-Westland area can look upon our law enforcement agencies. The two departments, working in unison, arrested four teenagers last week who had broken into twelve places in Wayne, Westland and surrounding cities.

These four boys, who all live in suburbia, range in age from 14 to 18 and have been "hitting" churches and business places usually between 11 p.m. and 2 a.m.

The capture of the youths began innocently enough when Wayne Officers Ronald Kea and Fred Stafford spotted a car parked on Michigan near Third Ave. in Wayne at 1:17 a.m.

The boy inside the car told the officers he "felt sick" and had dozed off for a few minutes. Ken and Stafford later observed the car pass through the area twice and go by Wayne St. Mary's church.

They alertly went to the church, found a break-in had occurred, and put out a "watch" for the car they had seen parked on Michigan Ave.

Westland police officers Cpl. William Hochstein, and Patrolmen Michael Frayer and Howard Lewis spotted the car at a Ford Rd. restaurant and followed it to another eatery on the same thoroughfare. They walked over to the car and saw some St. Mary's equipment inside.

The boys were arrested and upon questioning admitted 11 other break-ins in the area.

Wayne Detectives Dean Smith and Don Kendrick and Patrolman William Davidson were praised by Det. Sgt. Ray LeCorno for their fine work in assisting the Wayne and Westland police officers.

The story teaches two things, that the boys came from homes that do not have strong "family ties" and that the overwhelming majority of policemen are alert and dedicated to their jobs of protecting every one of us.

Freedom, 1995 Style

By Richard McKnight

WASHINGTON--(January 14, 1995)--Congress today passed the Uniform Procreation Act and sent the controversial measure to the President for signing.

The dramatic moment of passage came at 1:32 a.m. this morning as crowds of militant anti-control supporters milled about on the capitol steps.

The vote was 332-67 in favor of passage in the House, a much greater margin than the 56-43 vote in the Senate.

Major provisions of the act are:

*No married couple shall be permitted to procreate more than two children.

*Birth control chemicals will be injected immediately into all parts of the national water system.

*A prescription for non-treated water would have to be obtained from a government agency, to be consumed by the couple until conception has occurred.

*Orphaned children may be adopted by already completed families. If a child should die in a family, permission would be granted for the procreation of another child.

*Procreation of an unauthorized child would be a criminal act for both parents, punishable by no less than 10 and no more than 20 years at hard labor in a federal institution.

*Unauthorized children would not be discriminated against, but would be allowed to procreate only once in their lifetime to make up for the error of their parents.

*If persons who have already procreated are married for the second time, they may not procreate any children, except to the extent that both shall be allowed children to procreate. If only one shall be allowed to procreate, neither will be allowed.

*Black market traffic in untreated water will be the subject of severe police action by the FBI.

Senate Majority Leader Mrs. Bertha Lund said of the measure, "Although the law seems punitive and restrictive on the freedom of the individual, a clear and present danger exists that the United States will soon become seriously overpopulated. There is no choice, and I think we must herald this new legislation as a forward-looking act of patriotism."

The "clear and present danger" standard is that measure applied by the Supreme Court of the United States to decide when individual freedom must be compromised.

***

In Western Wayne County there are subdivisions where open fields once were. Where cows grazed, children played. How far in the future is the problem of overpopulation?

Lots Of Fun

By Dann Barkume

Everybody changes jobs every now and again and this reporter is no exception to the rule. My duties as Wayne Eagle editor have now passed as I have moved to the central copy desk.

Come what may I must admit that I am looking forward to this new experience, but I leave Wayne with a little bit of remorse.

I spent six months as editor of the Eagle and I found my Tenure there to be enjoyable and most rewarding. I met a number of people all of whom treated me with the greatest warmth and sincerity. I can honestly say that I did not meet one person that I did not like.

To those persons whom I had the pleasure of making an acquaintance, I say thank you for your friendship and for the stimulating conversations, whether it was in the line of business or over a cup of coffee.

To my successor, Jim Bradley, I hope that he experiences the same type of treatment that was given me. People were concerned about what they were doing and they took pride in being residents of Wayne.

I arrived in the midst of the Centennial preparations and I leave as the city prepares for another election. A lot has happened in between. It has been slow at times and there have been moments when I didn't know when those big stories were going to stop.

Whatever the situation was, someone always made it enjoyable. It will be hard to pack up and leave but I know that Jim will have as much fun as I did. I think the fact that I had fun made it so much easier to go into work each morning. I hope Jim has the same feeling once he gets settled.

Permit me to say thank you to the City of Wayne for letting me work with you these past six months and thank you for putting up with me and for understanding when I made a mistake.

The Eagle was my first job in commercial journalism and what I have picked up, I'm sure, will help in later years. I hope you enjoyed reading the Eagle as much as I enjoyed writing it.

I wish everyone in Wayne the best of luck and hope that all undertakings, public and private, turn out to be successful. Wayne is entering its 101st year. If it can last that long I see no reason why another 101 years cannot be easily be attained. Western Wayne county is growing and despite the fact that Wayne is no longer a young city, it is still growing.

I hope Wayne keeps on growing and judging by the clientele, I see no reason why it shouldn't.

Pax.

Sitting Bill

A Policeman's Challenge

By Bill Pomeroy

A recent disclosure by Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan's office that no irregularities occurred to initiate criminal proceedings in the police department probe requested by Mayor Eugene McKinney is a relief.

Finding nothing of the scandal implied through the irregularities charged to Lt. Gail Stanbury is satisfying, yet disturbing. So, what was the "big" news that Chief Clayton had on his man to suspend him?

It's quite possible the news media was taken on a well-known trip, and now a credibility gap exists between the media and Chief.

Stanbury's suspension now seems a bit overplayed, especially in light of the minor reprimands five officers got through a fatality labelled "poor judgment."

It doesn't seem right that one less inconspicuous action should deserve drastic discipline and on the other hand a highly conspicuous action receive restraints.

Stanbury yelled "foul" and much deservingly so. The five officers also have cried "foul" on the actions of reprimand by the Mayor and the Chief, but I feel they deserved it, if not more.

They feel the actions were "too stringent" and they are appealing the decision. They feel they did nothing wrong, and in this evaluation I feel they are using poor judgment in appraising their positions as police officers.

The strains, pressures, and the personalities they serve and pursue are part of their job once they put on a uniform. Their positions are filled on a voluntary basis, not a forced one.

Besides a character demand of leadership, a policeman hopefully maintains a healthy psychological adjustment to his job, courage to follow through when the need is there, and restraint when it isn't.

For these qualifications, it would seem a superhuman effort is required. Yet, policemen are human and they would like you to remember it.

But I would like to remind them that to err is human, and their errors could be fatal, even if they aren't on the receiving end.

I put a great deal of blame on the psychology of the firearm. It changes the person: control it or it will control you. Without the gun, the police officer is still a policeman, but with it there is a justification which changes him into another person.

Bell Reports Growth in Phone Use

Michigan took to the telephone like a talkative teenager during the 1960s.

The state gained two million telephones in the past decade, twice as many as in the 1950s.

On Jan. 1, 1960, Michigan had 2,877,000 telephones. At the beginning of 1970, the state has 4,900,000. Only seven foreign countries—Japan, United Kingdom, West Germany, Russia, Canada, Italy and France—have more phones than Michigan.

Telephone growth reflected the state's booming economy.

showed they want more privacy and convenience. Ten years ago, only 43.3 percent of residence customers had private lines. Today, nearly 75 percent have one-party service.

DURING THE same period, the number of extension phones in homes more than doubled, increasing from 474,000 to 1,100,000 now.

Not only are there more telephones and fewer party lines, but phone users are calling more often and making more long distance calls.

Ten years ago, the average phone user made 515 calls a year. The average Michigan caller made 625 calls last year. A decade ago, Michigan Bell phone users made an average of 14,302,000 local calls a day. The daily average in 1969 jumped to 23,000,000.

LONG DISTANCE calling has more than doubled in the past 10 years. Michigan phone users put through 270,000,000 long distance calls last year, compared with 118,230,000 a decade ago.

Ten years ago Direct Distance Dialing was still relatively new. Only 28 percent of Michigan Bell's customers could dial their own long distance calls. The number of phones that could be dialed directly then in the United States and Canada totaled 52,000,000.

Today, 95 percent of Michigan Bell's phone users can dial their own long distance calls. They can reach more than 115,000,000 phones in the U.S. and Canada.

***

NOT ONLY is there a big increase in the number of telephones equipped with direct dialing service, but customers showed a strong performance for dialing their own calls. Ten years ago, phone users dialed 30 percent of the long distance calls themselves. Last year callers dialed about 70 percent of their long distance calls to take advantage of savings.

The direct dialing service also has brought reductions in calling charges. For example, a dialed call during the daytime from Detroit to Los Angeles in 1960 cost $2.10 for the first three minutes and 55 cents for each additional minute.

The same call now costs $1.70, with 45 cents for each added minute. The person-to-person rate is the same ($3.30 for a three-minute call) as it was in 1960.

New night time rates, introduced during the 1960s, make it possible to dial calls anywhere in the United States for $1 or less and anywhere in Michigan for 50 cents or less.

Despite the big increase in customer dialing, operators still handled 77,750,000 long distance calls last year.

compared with 72,585,000 10 years ago.

AN INNOVATION of the past decade was the introduction of Electronic Switching Systems (ESS), a new concept in telephone switching. ESS operates much like a computer in handling phone calls. It operates in millionths of a second, compared with thousandths of a second for present systems.

ESS has smaller, more compact equipment modules and requires less floor space. In addition, maintenance is faster and easier because of the use of plug-in packs for components and circuitry. ESS promises a host of new custom calling services in the future. Some of these include the ability to reach frequently called local and long distance numbers by dialing two or three digits, to direct a call automatically to another telephone, and to add a third person to a conversation.

Although Michigan Bell has only a handful of the new ESS offices in operation, the number is expected to greatly increase in the 1970s.

***
TO COPE with the record expansion during the 1960s,

Michigan Bell spent nearly $1.5 billion on new construction. The record demand is expected to continue into the 1970s.

In the year ahead, Michigan Bell plans to spend an all-time high of $260 million for new facilities. The company expects to add 200,200 telephones in 1970. To meet the record service needs, Michigan Bell's payroll also reached new highs.

The company employed 29,600 persons last year and paid $238 million in wages and salaries. Ten years ago, Michigan Bell employed 24,100 and had a $134 million payroll.

KAM WASHBURN

Wins 4-H Award

A Michigan high school junior who at 16 has had experience with selling highly specialized crops has been tapped to attend the national 4-H Grain Marketing Conference in Chicago, Feb. 2-4.

He was named a delegate by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University.

He is Kam Washburn of St. Johns, one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Washburn who operate a 375-acre farm in central Clinton County. Last year 300 acres were planted in navy, kidney and turtle beans, and 75 in wheat.

Young Washburn has managed three of his father's acres for his 4-H Field Crops and Grain Marketing projects for the last four years.

He was Michigan's top 4-H grain marketer in the 1969 season. His reward is the conference trip provided by the Chicago Board of Trade, which also sponsors the national 4-H Grain Marketing program.

Washburn has dovetailed marketing of his bean and wheat production into his father's operation.

"Our wheat is sold at the time of harvest to local elevators," he says. "Unlike our wheat, our beans are not sold at harvest time. We store them at an elevator 40 miles away and wait until the price is near its peak."

Some special bean crops are raised on contract for shipment to Venezuela where the Washburns' black turtle beans are much in demand.

The conference is an annual event bringing together 4-H youths who have completed outstanding grain projects. This year members from 25 states will attend the meeting to learn more about the buying, selling, processing and consumption of grain products. They also will be exposed to the numerous careers available in the vast field of marketing, research and finance.

Officials To Attend Convention

BELLEVILLE--Three members of the Van Buren Board of Trustees are to attend sessions of the Michigan Townships Association's convention to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., this week. They are:

Edward C. Stoelton, township supervisor, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk; and Kurt Domick, board trustee.

Sessions will be held on Jan. 14, 15 and 16 at the Pantlind Hotel.

Romulus township is not sending any representatives as they dropped membership in the Association last summer.

A Charter Commission is presently preparing a City Charter for voter consideration in the near future. Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, reported.

Win at U of M Meet

BELLEVILLE--The Varsity and Novice Debaters of Belleville Senior High School participated in the Gold Cup Debates held at University of Michigan, Saturday, Jan. 10.

In the Varsity Division, the record was five to three. Pam Phillips and Elaine Hudson won all four of their rounds in "cross examination" giving them a trophy for second place. A Place Speaker Award was also won by Elaine.

The Novice team, debating in the Standard Varsity Division had a record of six against two. Trudy Heath and Barb Lobbstaal won all four rounds.

The Junior Varsity went to University of Michigan to debate for the Novice State Championship. They placed in the top 12 of Michigan. Phil Martin won a Third Place speaker award.

Romulus Democrats Call Meet

ROMULUS--The Romulus Democratic Club will hold a meeting tomorrow, Thursday, Jan. 15 at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, located on Huron River Drive.

The meeting starts at 8 p.m. Alfred J. Perry, club president, announced.

Important issues on the upcoming elections are slated for discussion in addition to pending and proposed Democratic activities Perry reported.

Crisp, C-cold Return

AS WE promised last week, we have still more news to report on our traveling Belleville-New Bostonites, several of whom made their way to Spain for a Latin-flavored holiday.

Others are in from the sunny coasts of Florida and California. And such a welcome they received from our Michigan weatherman! Mercuries dipping to those frigid below-zero temps; squeaky snow crunching beneath their heels; driveways and walks waiting to be shoveled; and Jack Frost nipping at their noses (to borrow a line from a Yuletide refrain.)

Memories of Espana

LEARNED THROUGH various grapevines that several parties from this area were in romantic Spain for an old-world look at the holidays. Neighbors on North Shore Drive, Herb and Donna Greaves and Jack and Marian Paulsen, and New Bostonites, Clifford and Loretta Glenn, were among the 250 who boarded a chartered plane at Metro for the flight.

The Glenns, who reside on Huron River Drive, had their two daughters along for the big experience which, Loretta says, is going to be repeated in the very near future. Susan, a senior at U. of M. and Cynthia, a sophomore at Huron High, have much to tell their friends these post-vacation days.

Leaving on the 26th the group disembarked at Malaga on the Spanish Riviera and were quartered in various spots throughout the area, the Glenns being located in Torre-Molinos.

Highlights of their stay (and that of the Greaves' and Paulsens) were a journey to mountainous Granada to visit the Alhambra; tours of lace and wine factories, a bullfight, and the cathedral and ancient building bit.

The Paulsen quartet—Karen, Steve, John, and Jean—headed for Florida via air to stay with their paternal grandparents in Fort Myers while their parents were away.

The Greaves boys—Jeff, Kurt, and Radford—stayed with their God-parents, Don and Joyce Lonsler in South Lyon during the nine-day absence of their mom and dad.

Bassinets Bulletins

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carnes, of 51074 Mott Road, Belleville, have a new daughter. Born December 20 at Beyer Hospital, her weight was registered at 5 lbs. - 15 ozs. and she was titled Kelly Lynn.

A son, Scott Allen, is the new addition to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, of 51044 Mott Road, Belleville. The 10 lb. - 5 oz. baby arrived December 30 at Beyer Hospital.

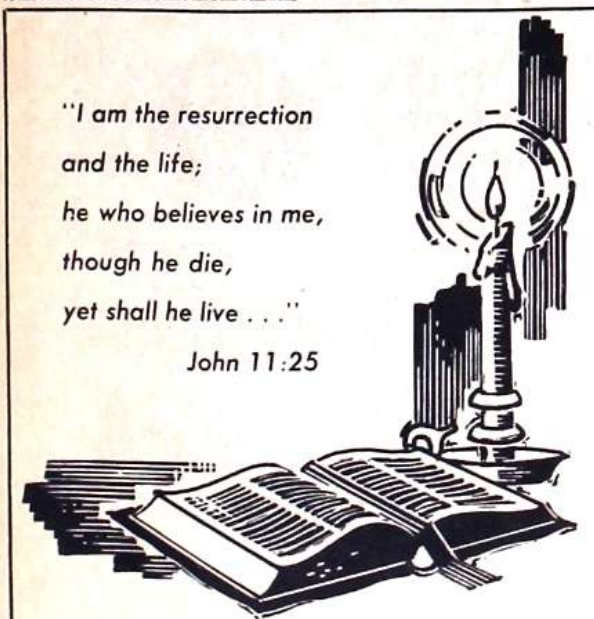

It was a boy, too, for Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Keeton, of 745 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville, who welcomed Jimmy Ray on the 29th of December at Beyer Hospital. The new heir weighed in at 7 lbs. - 3 ozs.

Bruce Wayne is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. David Riley, of 51045 W. Huron River Drive, Belleville, for their new son born the last day of 1969 at Beyer Hospital. His weight was recorded at 8 lbs. - 14 ozs.

Westward for Wedding

GAAL AND Myrtie Young (of Young's Market) had good reason to wing their way westward Christmas Day—their son, Dan of Anaheim, and Elena Williams of Santa Ana having set their wedding day for December 28. Wedding vows were exchanged at the ranch home of a close friend, Mari Dayle Peay, in Orange.

The Youngs not only acquired a new daughter-in-law but two grandsons as a bonus. Lance, 12, and Brett, nine, were at the L.A. Airport Christmas night with Dan and their mother to extend a warm greeting complete with hugs and kisses.

From there the sextet returned to the Williamses apartment where a turkey and all the holiday accompaniments were awaiting the Young's arrival.

The newlyweds and their boys will spend the next three months in Phoenix, Arizona where Dan and his fellow-musicians have accepted a club engagement. While away, the Youngs' spent two evenings at a local club where Dan was currently playing. They returned to their home on Bedell Street five days later.

Nebraska-Iowa on Agenda

BELVIL COMMUNITY Hospital Administrator Bill Hinchey and his wife, Peggy, had Christmas at home in Ann Arbor and the following day jetted out to Omaha to spend five days with members of their family.

Their time was divided between their two sons and their families—John and Phyllis Hinchey and son, Michael, and Bill and Barbara Hinchey and daughter, Maureen. They also called on Miss Catherine Hinchey, Bill's youngest sister, and toasted the New Year with a close friend, Peter Seletos, at the Zuider Zee, a private club.

Then on New Year's morning they flew to Des Moines, Iowa and, renting a car, drove to Boone for a few days with Peg's parents, the Alfred Shadles. Bill reports having LOTS of snow during their stay.

Home—Finally!

JOINING HIS parents, the Herbert Midas, for the first yuletide in three years was BT/3 Bob Mida who was here from his U.S. Navy base at Mayport, Florida for the holidays. His new bride, Nancy, was with him for festivities which included Mrs. Mida's mother, Mrs. Viola Cooper, who came from Auburn, New York, for her first visit in six years.

She departed Tuesday, January 6, following a two-months stay, with Bob flying out Thursday. Nancy is making her home with her parents, the James Spigarellis in Plymouth, while her husband is away.

Missing from the family picture was Sandra Mida Fry and her new hubby, Roger, who are stationed with the U.S. Navy in Nea Makri, Greece. With the Midas and their guests for the New Year's dinner was son Bill's girlfriend, Karen Skszek.

Annual Treks Over

ELWOOD AND Anne Davie and daughter, Karen, of Willis Road, and Louie and Jane Bokon with Jackie and Johnnie, of Elwell Road, arrived home on the fourth after two weeks in the Sunshine State.

With Naples as their destination, the group stopped off in Tarpon Springs to visit former neighbors, the Leonard Huges, and her mother, Mrs. William Sietz.

After spending four days of the Christmas season with Louie's and Anne's aunt, Mrs. Joe Bokon, the group moved up to Venice for the remainder of their sunny sojourn (Anne reporting beautiful weather in the 70's and 80's.)

The Bokons paid a visit to the Henry Nowaks (former owners of Wayside Market in Sumpter) at their motel complex in Fort Myers and also did the Busch Gardens routine before heading home and again stopping at the Huges.

AND STILL others in from a recent journey southward (the last to report in) are Wally and Crystal Rounsifer of Willis, formerly of Quirk Road. Driving down, they stayed in St. Petersburg, Florida while looking up a number of friends and relatives—all residents of this area at one time. In Bradenton they called on Wally's great-aunt and uncle, Bess and Walter Vail; saw the Ollie Minicks in Hudson; and lunched with the Leonard Huges and Mrs. William Sietz in Tarpon Springs.

The trip home, Cris reports, was pretty nerve-wracking with long stretches of ice in the mountainous regions.

Philosophy For 1970

END a quarrel. Search out a forgotten friend. Dismiss suspicion and replace it with trust. Write a love letter. Share some treasure. Give a soft answer. Encourage youth.

MANIFEST your loyalty in a word or deed. Keep a promise. Find the time. Forgo a grudge. Forgive an enemy. Listen. Try to understand. Apologize if you were wrong.

FOUL out envy. Examine your demands on others. Think first of someone else. Appreciate, be kind, be gentle, laugh a little more.

DESERVE confidence. Take up arms against malice. Deny complacency. Express your gratitude. Worship your God. Gladden the heart of a child.

TAKE pleasure in the beauty and wonders of the earth. SPEAK your love. Speak it again. Speak it still again. Speak it still once again.

Stew Dinner

St. Anthony's Cub Scouts, Pack No. 793, will hold their annual Chuck Wagon Stew Dinner Sunday, January 18, from 12 noon to 5 p.m. in the school cafeteria. All the stew, salad, rolls, beverage, and dessert you can eat will be available.

A special family ticket at $4. is being offered with individual tickets set at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Blood Donors Needed for Kadau

By Pearl Morris.
Phone WH 1-1187

Mr. Charles Kadau of 912 Fairwood, Inkster (formerly of Romulus) is seriously ill at this writing at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. Mr. Kadau has had several blood transfusions and will need several more.

If any of his local friends would like to donate blood they can do so by phoning Oakwood Hospital (565-7150) for an appointment.

Donations may also be made in his name and address at any blood bank. In the latter case, please notify Kadau's family by calling LO 5-5357 so that he may receive credit for the blood donation.

Mrs. Alice Opificius of Merriman Road returned home Saturday, Jan. 10, after spending two weeks as a patient at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. Mrs. Opificius entered as an emergency case on Dec. 29, suffering from a blood clot near her right ankle. She enjoyed the many cards and flowers she received from local friends and relatives during her hospitalization.

Mrs. Randall French of Sharon Street flew to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania airport early New Year's Eve to visit at nearby Mt. Pleasant Hospital with her father, Mr. Henry Falt, who was critically ill. Mr. Falt passed away on January 3.

The R. Frenches' daughter, Sandra Wahtera, arrived at Metro Airport from her home in Kingsville, Texas, on Sunday, January 4. Shortly thereafter she and the Frenches drove to Mt. Pleasant, Pennsylvania to attend funeral services for Mr. Falt (see above item).

The Frenches' elder daughter, Sharon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Halvin, Randy and Sean, of Castle Drive also drove to Pennsylvania to attend the funeral services which were held at Luther Grimm Funeral Home in Mt. Pleasant, followed by interment in Mt. Joy Cemetery.

On Thursday (tomorrow) at 7:30 p.m. a special meeting for those interested in the Church School will be held at the New Boston Methodist Church on Huron River Drive.

This meeting is also for folks from the Romulus United Methodist Church who are interested in the religious education of all age groups, but especially the children and youth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nairemore and a five-month-old son, Jonathan, will be the new residents at 14054 Huron River Drive.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on December 18, 1969, decide and determine that the certain streets described in the minutes of said Board should be County roads under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners. The minutes of said meeting fully describing said streets are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows: Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 7th Floor, City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, at 9:00 A.M., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, December 18, 1969.

Present: Chairman Kreger and Vice-Chairman Berry.

"Commissioner Berry moved the adoption of the following resolution: "BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan that it hereby accepts the dedication to the use of the public of the following described roads and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Brandt and Cypress Roads as dedicated to the use of the public in Airway Industrial Center Sub. No. 1 of part of the S. 1/2 of Section 2, T. 35., R. 9E., Romulus Township, Wayne County, Michigan as recorded in Liber 92 of Plats on Pages 1 and 2, Wayne County Records, constituting a total of 0.449 mile of County Roads.

The motion, was supported by Commissioner Kreger and carried by the following vote: Ayes: Commissioners Kreger and Berry. Nays: None."

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, the 26th day of December, A.D. 1969.

Nursery Sponsors Talk on Reading

YPSILANTI—Dr. Ingrid Ylisto, an associate professor of education at Eastern Michigan University, was guest speaker at the Tuesday, Jan. 13, meeting of the Ypsilanti Children's Nursery.

The meeting was held in the lounge at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Ypsilanti.

Dr. Ylisto is a reading consultant in various area schools, and a well known authority in this aspect of education.

*** FORMER HEAD of the National Defense Education Act Reading Institute at EMU, she has spoken at the International Reading Association, The National Council of Teachers of English and many other local, state and national educational meetings.

Included among her numerous writings is the publication "Foundations of Reading Development."

Dr. Ylisto's topic of discussion was "Nursery School-Readings for What?"

Ypsilanti Children's Nursery also announces openings for the semester beginning in February in the four year old group.

Bar Sets Midyear Meet Ordinance Compliance Sought

Upwards of 700 members of Michigan's legal profession, along with their wives are expected to convene for the first annual Midyear Meeting of the State Bar of Michigan to be held in Detroit on Saturday, Jan. 24, at Cobo Hall and the Veterans Memorial Building.

The program will open with an informal reception held in the Ontario Room of the Pontchartrain Hotel at 6:00 p.m., on Friday evening, Jan. 23.

Principal speaker for the one-day work session will be American Bar Association President Bernard G. Segal, Philadelphia, who will address a luncheon gathering at 12:30 p.m., in Ballroom "A" of Cobo Hall on Saturday, January 24.

The luncheon will be in honor of retired State Bar Executive Director, Milton E. Bachmann.

Forty-four separate State Bar committees, as well as seven Council Workshop sessions, and a general meeting of the Michigan Conference of Bar Officers will make up the day's agenda.

Winter roads can have treacherous slippery spots, even when most of the mileage is clear, warns the Michigan State Safety Commission. Melting snow and ice freezes quickly again on overpasses, bridges and in shaded areas. Watch for them.

ROMULUS—Township Enforcement Officers have been instructed to step-up enforcement of the ordinance pertaining to annual licenses issued in the Township.

The Township Board at its Jan. 5 meeting unanimously approved a motion made Trustee James Stewart calling for stricter enforcement of the ordinance. He was supported by Trustee Jimmie Raspberry.

Complaints have been made that in some areas of the Township violations of the ordinance exist.

WOMEN of The MOOSE

The Women of the Moose Chapter No. 1135 of Belleville announce that The Child Care Committee is sponsoring a card party on Jan. 20, at 7:30 at the Lodge home. Cards of your choice, lunch and prizes. Donation is $1.

We would like to have a good turnout for our Chapter's "Green Cap" night, Jan. 26, 15 8:00 p.m. This is to honor our Junior Graduate Regent, Martha Morton, and we are honored to have our Deputy Grand Regent in attendance for this occasion.

Neighboring Chapters have been invited to participate in this event and have promised their support.

Don't forget our fish-frys every Friday from 5 to 8 p.m. Fish, chicken and steak are on the menu.

OK's Bid Acceptance

ROMULUS—The acceptance of bids on carpeting and drapes for the 34th District Court, located at 30240 Eureka Road, has been authorized by the Romulus Township Board.

Bids received by Township Clerk Alfred J. Perry will be presented to the Board at its next regular meeting.

Motion to take bids on carpeting and drapes was made by Trustee Ellis T. Pennington and supported by Trustee Gene Mulberry.

Moose Lodge Notes

by George W. Steger

The Loyal Order of Moose, Belleville Lodge No. 934, held an Enrollment on Saturday, Jan. 10, at the Moose Home at 8 p.m., in honor of the Lodge's 24th Anniversary.

A delicious dinner was served by the Women of the Moose and dancing afterward to the music of "Ted Leonard".

Seven new members were enrolled. They are:

Ron Montroy, Glenn Patton, Miller Reedy, Charles Creamer, John Russell Gibson, Richard Schuette and Paul Domen with Paul Domen as Class Representative. The Ritual work was exemplified by the Belleville Ritual Team.

On Sunday, Jan. 11, District No. 1 Fellowship Breakfast was held at the Belleville Lodge with guest Jerry Cutchall, state sports chairman, present. Also on Jan. 11, the District No. 1 Sports held a sports meeting at the Belleville Lodge at 1 p.m. with State Sports Chairman Cutchall presiding. Tonight (Wednesday, Jan. 14) there will be a membership meeting at the Moose Home at 7 p.m. and on Saturday, Jan. 24, there will be a Legion-Fellowship Dinner at the Moose Home at 6:30 p.m.

The mixed Pool League will start at the Belleville Moose Home on Sunday, Jan. 18.

Watch this paper for future activities and news. Our deepest sympathy to the family of Brother William Eager on the loss of his father.

Confused about time savings plans? Take a close look and you'll find that NO BANK PAYS MORE!*

There have been a lot of claims made about time savings accounts, especially where interest is concerned. However, we think you ought to consider the fact that no bank pays more than 5% annual interest, compounded continuously on time savings. With this thought in mind, why not go beyond numerical interest, and take a close look at the real thing, the bank's interest in you as a time saver.

We've made it as easy as possible for you to open a Security Time Savings Account. All you need is an initial deposit of $1,000, and unlike many other plans, you may deposit $50 or more to your account at any time.

We feel it's important for you to know what your money is doing. As a result, at the end of each calendar quarter, you'll receive a statement that shows transactions made and interest earned. At the end of the year, we'll send you a special statement, for tax purposes. In addition, you will receive a handy passbook-type folder in which to keep all of your records.

You'll be able to withdraw savings that have been on deposit for a full calendar quarter, during the first 10 days of each succeeding quarter, without notice, or at any time with 90 days advance (the minimum legal requirement) written notice.

Your savings will earn maximum interest until the day of withdrawal. We'll be happy to credit interest to your Security Time Savings Account, another account, or mail you a quarterly check. The choice is yours.

We hope that the preceding has helped to shed some light on a service we think you will be interested in, a Security Time Savings Account. As you can see, we offer "maximum" bank interest, and a personal interest in you. Open a time savings account with us and enjoy the benefits of both!

When it comes to banking, Security is all you need!

Alan Stang, Noted Author, To Lecture Here Saturday

BELLEVILLE—Author, lecturer, and columnist Alan Stang will speak on "The Great Giveaway," a 40-year history of United States aid to our enemies, in a public address on Jan. 17, at the Belleville High School at 7:30 p.m.

The lecture is part of a month-long tour of the area. The local sponsor is the Belleville Train Committee.

Stang is the author of two books, "It's Very Simple," the definitive study of Communist influences of the civil rights movement, and "The Actor," which examines the career of John Foster Dulles and the late diplomat's influence on U.S. foreign policy.

He is also a regular contributor to "American Opinion" and "The Review of the News," two magazines published by subsidiaries of The John Birch Society.

IN HIS present remarks, Stang states that food, supplies, equipment, information, and financing from the United States and other Western nations "have kept the Communists in business for the past forty years."

He documents the aid and trade that the Soviet Union and its satellites have received from the free world, starting during the Bolshevik conquest of Russia, through the $11 billion Lend-Lease program of the 1940's, right up to the present.

Stang charges that our present so-called "non-strategic" aid to the Communists actually helps prolong the war in Vietnam. He points out that the Soviet bloc presently supplies more than eighty percent of the sinews of war to Communist North Vietnam.

"Much of this help to the Vietcong is made possible only by U.S. help to our Communist enemies," Stang asserts. "American technology, equipment, supplies and credit keep the Communists' war alive in Vietnam — and it's high time this aid to the enemy was stopped."

STANG INSISTS that every American should become more informed and more concerned about these policies because we are the financiers, the suppliers, and the industrial brains, that enable the Communists to kill our sons and enslave our friends. As Americans, we are the only ones who can put a stop to the criminal folly of aiding our declared enemies," the so-called "socialist parasites" are in fact parasitic prisons that could not exist without outside support, Stang charges.

The Train Committee, which is sponsoring Stang's speech was formed to restore traditional American principles to American foreign policy, demand victory in Vietnam, and halt all aid and trade with the Communist bloc.

Tickets for Stang's speech are $1.50 in advance or $2 the night of the speech. They may be obtained by calling OX 7-7089, by writing the Belleville Train Committee, P.O. Box 102, Belleville, Michigan, or at the auditorium the night of the speech.

4-H Club Reports On Meeting

BELLEVILLE—The Mustang's 4H monthly meeting was held at Jo Ann Neely's house, Jan. 5. This was the first meeting of the new year.

The club discussed about some of the activities we did during the past year: roller skating, hay rides, and a Christmas party, the parents and leaders put on for the club.

The club would like to thank the leaders for helping out all of us in our achievements in the past years. We would especially like to thank Mrs. Reier for all her devoted time and effort.

The club would like to

Mrs. Renier also passed out booklets on Animal Nutrition, Animal Reproduction, and a horse pamphlet.

The meeting was adjourned at 9 p.m. and some club members brought in pop and cupcakes.

PTA Has Busy Month

R O M U L U S—Harrison School's PTA President, Bob Knight, reported a busy month of PTA activities during December.

Beginning on Dec. 16 with a kindergarten presentation, there were events daily throughout the week.

PTA mothers and fathers helped with the organization, furnished food, candy, ice cream, beverages and also attended many of the parties and performances.

A "Full House" attended the evening Christmas Music program said Knight.

The next meeting of the Harrison PTA will be on Jan. 21, 7 30 p.m., in the Multi-Purpose Room at Harrison School, 14701 Harrison Road.

Supervisors Hit Court's 'Crash' Program Handling

Members of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors have criticized the handling of the Michigan Supreme Court's "crash" program for reducing the backlog of cases in Wayne County Circuit Court and Detroit Recorder's Court.

The supervisors judiciary committee withheld approval of a request from crash program director Robert E. Krinock for more personnel in three County departments to handle additional work generated by the crash program.

Members of the judiciary committee, chaired by Supervisor Eugene A. Sikora, of Detroit, D-District 7, were critical of the fact that the Board of Supervisors was not consulted during planning of the program in spite of its impact on the County treasury.

"WE MIGHT have been able to forego some other items in this year's budget to cover the cost of this program," Sikora stated.

When he appeared before the committee Jan. 8, Krinock said the number of additional probation officers needed in conjunction with the program was still being studied.

The committee decided not to consider his request until he could return with complete figures on the potential cost to the County.

The supervisors received a report estimating that the crash program would cost the County $780,000, not including the even greater cost of additional probation officers.

DETROIT SUPERVISOR Freddie G. Burton, D-Dist. 5, a Negro, complained that most of the 11 judges added to the two court benches are whites from outside the metropolitan area, while up to 80 percent of the defendants who will be tried by them are black Detroit residents.

Other members of the supervisors judiciary committee are Robert E. FitzPatrick, Detroit, D-District 13, vice chairman; Paul Silver, Detroit, D-District 11; and Jerome A. Szymanski, Detroit, D-Dist. 6.

The church is located at 6250 Gilmore, Denton.

In The Open

By LEE SMITS
Special Writer

Washington reports the allocation of fish and wildlife restoration funds derived from federal excise taxes on the manufacture and sale of hunting and fishing equipment.

The $24,000,000 bonus is distributed according to the area of each state and the number of hunting and fishing licenses purchased in each state.

The list shows Michigan well up toward the top with a total of 884,324 licenses paid for.

Professionals in fish and wildlife management have long recognized the preeminence of Michigan in respect to outdoor resources.

To select Michigan's No. 1 game fish and No. 1 game animal would be a tricky job. The brook trout is designated as Michigan's foremost game fish. Native to our streams, the brook trout has retained its title in the face of strong opposition from rainbows, browns and now the coho, with additional exotics due to arrive on the scene.

AN OLD-TIMER need not hesitate to name the favorite game species - cottontail rabbit. The cottontail was waiting for the first settlers in the southern counties. As forests were cleared and farms tilled northward, the cottontail moved north with settlement until probably there is no Michigan township without representatives of the species. Cottontail appearing in the western end of the Upper Peninsula may have come in from Wisconsin. Cottontail have never rivalled the snowshoe hare as a game species in the north.

Cottontail gives the farm boy sport, it supports beagle fanciers, and what is most important, it is a buffer species, taking the brunt of predation that might otherwise do heavier damage on animals with a higher popularity rating.

The cottontail is the prey of virtually every meat-eater, from blacksnake to eagle. The species survives, not by wits or guile, but simply by reproducing faster than its enemies can consume it.

The cottontail is not a hardy beast. Experiments have shown that it cannot long endure temperatures below freezing. In winter the woodchuck digs the burrows that enable cottontail to survive. Without the woodchuck, the cottontail stands no chance in the north.

It would be interesting to review a list of all cottontail sub-species found in North America, from arid desert to the everglades. In southern marshes there is a rabbit that is as at home in water as on land, as shown by its runways through matted aquatic growth.

A Pictorial Report On Benefit Dance

ONE OF MANY COUPLES at the Carol Ruff Benefit Dance at the Belleville High School cafeteria Jan. 10 were Michael Vanderhoof and Miss Luanne Smith. The dance, sponsored by Carol's sophomore class, drew over 500 persons and raised over $700 for the further education of the badly injured Carol, who may not be able to return to school this year.

Service Mothers Pick Slate

ROMULUS—The Romulus Service Mothers Club elected officers at their meeting on Jan. 5. Those elected to office were:

President, Mrs. Alice Twitchell; Vice-President, Mrs. Evelyn Piper, Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Stafford, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Betty Stafford;

Treasurer, Mrs. Josephine Rehkopf.

The Club meets each first Monday of the month at the Progressive Hall at Five Points.

Meetings begin with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m., followed by a business meeting.

The officers welcomed new members to attend.

Overweight? Hi-Low Club Extends Invitation

ROMULUS—As the song says "It's Over, All Over". The Holiday season is past leaving happy memories of epicurean experiences and gustatory delights. Alas, it is also safe to wager that there are more tangible evidences remaining. Like, to be blunt, "How much weight did you gain over the holidays?"

Even to such determined and dedicated ladies as the members of the Romulus Township Hi Low Club, the answer to that question is a little embarrassing.

Mrs. Irene Jernigan, club president, ruefully reported that the 37 members have acquired a cumulative total of 50 pounds over the holidays. But, she hastened to assure, they are going to lose them!

Wear something comfortable, she said and join the other members in their effort to get rid of that unwanted weight.

Other features of the Hi Low Club's activities are Secret Pals, who remember birthdays and anniversaries and also send words of encouragement to help ease off the pounds.

Plans are now being made for a pre-Easter fashion show, said Mrs. Jernigan. Easter? Mercy, it's later than you think.

At Belvil Program May Be Resumed

BELLEVILLE—A new hospital program inaugurated recently at the Belvil Community Hospital which provided services to Senior Citizens with hearing problems has been termed a "successful program" by William E. Hinchey, hospital administrator.

The initial phase of this new program consisted of a nine-week course at a minimum cost. The program provided personal testing, consultation and lip reading instructions.

Hinchey reported Monday that steps have been taken to start another session at the hospital on a date to be announced.

In the first session, an average of 15 persons were in attendance at each of the two-hour sessions. The cost is $4.50, or 50 cents a lesson. It is a service that would cost a great deal more outside of the program, Hinchey reported.

The hospital had secured the services of Larry J. Koch, a hearing specialist of the University of Michigan Speech and Hearing Clinic to head the last initial program. It is hoped by Hinchey that his services will again be available.

Assisting Koch during his direction and supervision of the new program were four young women, who hold Bachelor of Science degrees in Speech Pathology and Audiology from University of Michigan. They were:

Miss Gerry Russell, Miss Susan Hayes, Miss Vivian Gaynes and Miss Laura Kronheim, all of Ann Arbor.

Taxi Cab Stand License Approved

ROMULUS—The Romulus Township Board approved the granting of a taxi cab stand license to V. T. Williams, 5320 Middlebelt, Road, Westland. The license was issued in accordance with the Township Ordinance.

Permission was also granted Williams to have telephone facilities hooked into his building but no occupancy will be permitted until the building is brought up to Township Building Codes and Specifications.

Relations Division of the Inner-City Business Improvement Forum, and president of Phillip Sims Associates, Inc., has had extensive experience in Public Affairs and Social Welfare.

He succeeds Albert J. Dunmore, former Chairman of the WCEOC. Dunmore, who is Manager of Urban Affairs of Chrysler Corporation, had asked that he not be considered for re-election in the position held for the past year because of other business pressures. Dunmore will continue as a member of the committee.

WILLIAM CLARK, legislative clerk, was re-elected Vice Chairman.

The newly-elected chairman has broad community connections.

He is co-owner and member of the Detroit Courier Newspaper, a member of the American Public Health Association, the Michigan Society of Gerontology, the General Council of TULC, the Board of Director of the Consumer Research Advisory Council of Detroit, and the Board of Directors of HUB Transit Authority.

Archbishop Lectures at Marygrove

Dom Helder Camara, archbishop of Olinda and Recife in Northeast Brazil and outspoken apostle of the poor, will lecture on "Man Against Misery" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 21, at Marygrove College auditorium.

The Archbishop's support of the underprivileged has won him the enmity of conservative interests in both the Church and State. He is a shepherd of the Church in the tradition of John XXIII and has become a political figure in Brazil because he insists that the gospel concerns not only men's souls but their whole human existence.

The lecture is sponsored by the Institute for Continuing Education of the Archdiocese of Detroit and the social science faculty of Marygrove College.

Job Check Announced

The monthly survey of employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census will be made in this area during the week of Jan. 18, Hobert A. Yerkey, director of the Bureau's regional office in Detroit, has announced.

Households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample of the U.S. population. The survey statistics are collected for the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor to furnish a basic measure of the Nation's economic health.

Belvil Directors Elect Gauthier

BELLEVILLE-The Board of Directors of the Belvil Community Hospital Association have elected Archie H. Gauthier, active civic leader to the Corporate Board of the Association, William E. Hinchey, hospital administrator, announced Monday.

The election of Gauthier, currently president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, bring Corporate Board membership to 27.

Corporate Board members meet annually to elect the Board of Directors and assist in the determination of other hospital administration matters and policies.

Gauthier, popular Belleville citizen, resides at 43340 Alva Road. He and his wife are parents of two daughters. He is a sales representative of the Union Oil Company.

THE NEW member was born in Ohio and has been a

ARCHIE H. GAUTHIER resident of the Belleville area since 1952.

He is a member of the Scottish Rite of the Masonic Order and of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Belleville.

He is active in community affairs. Gauthier's hobbies are bowling and fishing.

The Association's annual meeting will be held on Jan. 28, Hinchey announced.

An election to fill three expiring terms on the Board of Directors will be held following the meeting.

Parking Ban Issued

Parking will be banned soon on the shoulders of three miles of M-153 in Canton Township, Wayne County, between the C & O Railroad and Canton Center Road, the Department of State Highways has announced.

A study by State Police, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the Highway Department showed that vehicles parked within 12 feet of the pavement edge created a hazard by restricting the sight distance of motorists entering the highway.

THE STUDY also showed that other parking space is available.

Parking was banned earlier on the shoulders of M-153 in the Northland area east of the C & O Railroad.

The parking ban is authorized in a traffic control order signed by Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, and Col. Frederick E. Davids, state police director. It will be enforced as soon as no-parking signs are posted.

"You may be a whiz on skis, but how are you on skids?" asks the Michigan State Safety Commission. Driving on ice and snow takes the same delicate skill and control as a fast slalom. Do your "christies" on the slopes—not on the highway.

Officials To Attend Convention

BELLEVILLE-Three members of the Van Buren Board of Trustees are to attend sessions of the Michigan's Townships Associations' convention to be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., this week. They are: Edward C. Stoelton, township supervisor, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk; and Kurt Domcik, board trustee.

Sessions will be held on Jan. 14, 15 and 16 at the Pantlind Hotel.

Romulus township is not sending any representatives as they dropped membership in the Association last summer.

A Charter Commission is presently preparing a City Charter for voter consideration in the near future. Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, reported.

'Get To Know Neighbor' Is Aim of Church Group

ROMULUS-A group of people who are meeting at 8 p.m. each third Wednesday of the month at the United Methodist Church, located at 11190 Olive Street, have as their goal to get to know their neighbors both near and far.

Focusing their attention on the adult level they hope to provide an enjoyable and rewarding association among the various quarters of the community.

Mrs. Mattie Hester, chairman for Adult Recreation reported their meetings are for games, conversation and laughter. "We just have a lot of fun," she said. They have no special project in mind other than becoming better acquainted, but they would undertake some endeavor if the group wished.

"We have an open mind to innovations," said Mrs. Hester. Assisting in the planning of the get-togethers is Mrs. Irene Russell who acts as co-chairman.

"We would like to invite everyone to come, if you already know your neighbor, bring him along," Mrs. Hester said.

Soldier in Vietnam Chastizes Writers

TO THE EDITOR:

Again I take this opportunity to criticize your paper. In your Dec. 17, 1969 edition of the Guardian you had your column Lift Up Your Head titled "War Does Change Our Sons" and it distinctly ridiculed the United States Government, The South Vietnam Government, but most of all it ridiculed the United States Soldier.

Media, we haven't lost the conflict in Vietnam morally or otherwise, we have just lost respect in the "fly by night column writers". I back Vice President Agnew for all that he has said about the press. At least he has plenty of substantial evidence to back up what he said-read your Dec. 17, 1969 paper over again and see how right I am.

I must agree on one point "War is Inhuman" but we have tried the round table discussions and they are still going on in Paris, with no sign of any truce. We have tried signing documents and treaties but now they are on display at Institutes across the nation. What else is there to do to derive peace out of the situation in Vietnam and Southeast Asia. I more than any writer, want peace and I am willing to pay any price and/or bear any burden.

We are not sent here to be killers. We are sent here to be defenders for the defenseless.

The United States responded to the defenseless like your local police respond to a call from the citizens of the community. South Vietnam called on all Americans to help to protect their homes and lives. Your local policeman wouldn't turn his back on you. Are you going to turn your back on South Vietnam and all Southeast Asia.

Yes, war is inhuman-but communism is more so.

Barkume, Bradley Take New Editorial Posts

WAYNE-In a major staff reorganization, Associated Newspapers, Inc., a division of Panax Corporation, has named two staff members to new positions.

Dann Barkume, former Wayne Eagle editor, moves to the new position of assistant copy editor. Barkume will assist copy editor Dick McKnight in the production of all news pages, through a central copy desk operation.

Canton Eagle editor Jim Bradley takes over in the Wayne Eagle editor spot, replacing Barkume. Bradley will continue to cover Canton, as well as Wayne.

Barkume, 21, is an Inkster resident and a junior at the University of Detroit. He joined the Associated Newspapers staff in July, 1969.

Bradley, 36, lives in Garden City, and is pastor of the Wayne Baptist Temple in Westland. He and his wife, Pansy, have three sons. Bradley has been a fulltime Associated staff member since March, 1969, and was previously employed as a columnist and parttime writer.

Executive Editor Basil

Stevens said of the staff changes, "The reorganization will allow the staff to operate more efficiently and produce a better newspaper in all nine of the communities we serve. I am sure both Bradley and Barkume will perform exceptionally in their new, more responsible positions."

Third Grader Tells About School Club

TO THE EDITOR:

I am in the third grade. I want to tell you about my classroom out at Wildwood School. We are organized as a club. The name of our club is called the Nastoff's Nuggets.

It means that each member of our club is as good as gold.

We vote for the officers in our club every eight weeks. We call them our helpers.

In our club we are learning about special words. Here are some of them, initiative is doing things on our own, government means voting for our leaders, responsibility is taking care of things, democracy means people-rule. In our club we make our rules, called the N.N. Charter.

Here are some of our rules: Always walk orderly on school grounds, keep busy doing good work, respect and obey our club rules.

All of us love to be in school. Everyone of us loves democracy. We are proud of the N.N. Club and what it teaches us.

Everyone On Trial, Inksterite Believes

TO THE EDITOR:

I like Mr. LeCesne, I like Mr. Steel and what I have seen of Mr. Nelson I like him also. As I see it Mr. Nelson came here with the required qualifications. He also is on trial, though perhaps not for a year. If he does not prove up to the qualifications he could no doubt be replaced.

On the other hand, Mr. Steel was an electrical inspector, with some experience of building inspection. It seems only fitting that he be on trial to find out if he has qualified for the job of building inspector. He had been promoted to building inspector without a trial, and he did not fill the qualifications, and the city fathers had to reduce him to his previous position of electrical inspector, then you would have seen some radical upheaval.

No, personally in this instance I believe the right procedure was followed, I am glad Mr. Steel is doing a fine job, I hope Mr. Nelson does likewise, for the benefit of all of us in Inkster.

Birds Need Break In Bad Weather

TO THE EDITOR:

These beautiful words were written by William Alexander Percy.

I heard a wild bird at the break of Day
Sing from the Autumn trees,
A song so mystical and calm
So Free of certainties.
No person could listen long
Except upon their knees.
Yet this was only a simple bird,
Singing alone among the dead trees.

Please remember to feed the birds during this severe weather.

Urban Courses Offered

WESTLAND-John Glenn High School will be one of three sites in Wayne County where the Wayne County Community College will offer a series of college-level classes in urban problems.

Noted local urbanologists, such as housing commissioners and planners, will be teaching the courses at Glenn, and at the Ecorse and Detroit Northwestern centers.

The Urban Technology Program a special part of the total Community College program, is aimed at producing skilled planning aides to help in the development of Wayne County communities.

Local municipal officials have been notified of the program, and have had a hand in developing the course materials, Keller said.

Registration for the courses will be held every night from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at each of the centers. Counselors will be on hand to assist those needing further information about the courses. Classes begin January 26.

One of the long-range goals of the program is produce individuals knowledgeable in the obtaining of federal funds for local projects, Keller said.

The program is headed by Art Neal and Arnie Keller is associate director.

More To Be Said On Vocational Education

TO THE EDITOR:

The article dated December 22, 1969, Vocational Education Should Have Priority, was well intended but I think the public should have additional information to assist them in their conclusions about the path of vocational education.

The article indicates the need for new and better methods for financing vocational education. It further supports the concept of regional school districts in Michigan with regional vocational education centers.

Congress, in its slow methodical way, is seeking better ways of financing vocational education. In 1963, Congress passed the Vocational Education Act and five years later the Vocational Education Amendments of 1968.

This action illustrates the desire to improve occupational education. Congress has repeatedly approved authorizations for vocational education. However, by the time the funds are released the money is rarely equal to the original authorization. In addition to this, the monies reach districts much too late to allow for advanced budget planning.

The Vocational Education Amendments of 1968 has the framework and the ability to foster a sound occupational education program for all youths and adults. The real need is for more federal funds to assist local districts in their endeavor to carry out the recommendations of the 1968 Amendments.

The Advisory Council on Vocational Education recently reported that the federal government invests $14 in our nation's universities for every $1 invested in our vocational education programs. Is this a wise investment when over 80 per cent of our youth are bound for non-professional occupations?

Another problem facing us is the "blue dollar" stigma that is created by well meaning parents who impress on their children that the only road to success is via a college diploma. The unrest on our college campuses is not stemming from students involved in job oriented professions. (i.e. engineering, business and medicine) Students possessing a distorted, inaccurate concept of the world of work and students who are seemingly unaware of their own ability for earning and contributing to an industrial society are the disenchanting, non-believers of the "establishment".

Vocational education to date has been largely remedial in nature and concerned with specific skill training. Fortunately this concept is changing. (The Vocational Education Amendments of 1968 encourages this change) Career development is a lifelong process. Ways are being sought by educators to create preventive programs early in the educational process which will make the student aware of the nature of the work, the training required, the typical working conditions and the employment outlook for the variety of occupations existing today in the world of work.

In addition to this, more and more adult programs are appearing on the scene which provide retraining in specific job skills. We must not only continue to find ways of providing people of all ages with opportunities to prepare for employment but we must also provide ways to allow them to progress during their working lives.

Some feel that the technical or vocational high school provides the answer to the vocational education dilemma. Unfortunately this represents but a small need in the total problem. History has shown that most occupational schools begin with good intentions of preparing students for job entry. The prestige of having the better student, however, soon changes the character of the program from a basic training center to a technical school.

Our present educational system can deal with the problem of improving occupational education providing appropriate funds are made available to improve facilities and acquire additional professional staff. Greater use could be made of our available manpower agencies. Districts could hire, on a part-time basis, tradesmen and business people from the surrounding community to work with students if more monies were available, and archaic vocational teacher certification requirements were remedied.

Your interest in vocational education is commendable. There are many sides to be heard. There are many facets to be discussed. In the end it is hoped that the solution will include total K-12 occupational education programs along with an adult retraining system that provides for all.

The three 'Rs remain important and should be continued however there is a place now for the occupational three 'As, attitude, awareness and assessment.

Standard Time Wins Final Bout

DETROIT—"Now that the petition drive to submit Daylight Saving Time once more to the voters has fallen considerably short of the required number of signatures, we believe this indicates most people are tired of the issue and consider it settled once and for all," according to Noel F. Duncan, executive director, Citizens for Standard Time.

"The history of this issue itself would seem to bear out that feeling," Duncan continued. "It was first rejected by more than two-thirds of each House of the State Legislature; then by vote of the people in a general election; then in a recount of that vote; and now by an insufficient number of names for an initiative petition," he observed. "At each stage the time issue has been thoroughly discussed and debated."

"We hope," Duncan concluded, "that this is the end of a controversy that has plagued Michigan citizens for too long and that we can now turn our efforts to more important problems."

Two Attend Meeting

Two area alumni of Manchester college, Indiana, have been invited to attend a chapter meeting held in Detroit with Paul Hoffman, Dean of Students, speaking.

The alumni from this area are Mrs. Doris Royer of Westland, and Max Douglas of Plymouth.

The meeting, in Greenfield's Restaurant, Sunday, Jan. 18, will deal with the students' viewpoint of their College to give the alumni a better understanding of communications between student and administration.

New 1040 Form Explained

DETROIT—Each of the 18 million taxpayers in the United States who filed the now discontinued card 1040A form last year, have received a postcard explaining the change to the new consolidated 1040 form, the Internal Revenue service announced today.

This year all taxpayers will receive a larger, complete tax package that includes the one-page basic 1040 and additional pages or schedules, which may or may not be used according to the taxpayer's needs.

Past 1040A-users will find that except for a few lines, the new 1040 asks for the same information as the old card form and that they probably will not need to fill out more than one sheet of paper to make out their returns, the card says.

In the past, taxpayers who used the 1040A could not take advantage of certain tax credits or exclusions and could not itemize their deductions. A principal reason for making the change to the new form is to enable

County Board Taps Zak For Second Term at Helm

Albert J. Zak recently was elected to his second consecutive term as chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Zak was unopposed as he garnered 20 votes in being chosen by his fellow supervisors to lead them for another year—six more votes than he received a year ago in being chosen to head the County's first directly-elected legislative body.

Four supervisors abstained in the secret balloting and two were absent.

As their first vice chairman in history, the supervisors chose James DeSana, of Wyandotte, D-District 23. Unopposed, he received 21 votes, with four abstentions. There was only one absentee when DeSana was elected.

The vice chairman will preside over the board in the absence of the chairman, a task that previously fell to the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. A year ago DeSana was the major challenger to Zak for the chairmanship.

Zak, 60, a Democrat who resides in Hamtramck and represents District 8, is a career public official. He was serving on the County Civil Service Commission when he ran for the Board of Supervisors.

Previous to that, he served four years as a state representative, 10 years as Hamtramck city clerk and 11 years as Hamtramck mayor.

He thanked the members of the Board of Supervisors "for your vote of confidence" and declared that the elected board achieved "an enviable record" during its first year.

"Upon being elected chairman of the Board of Supervisors, I stated that we must become responsible and accountable to our constituents," he stated. "I am proud to say that you have proven yourselves to be most responsible."

He cited the balanced county budget resistance to "pressure to initiate a give-away of taxpayers money," and legislation earmarking revenue from extra voted millage for capital improvements.

As achievements, he cited the addition of 27 employees at Juvenile Court, the decision to build a new extended care facility at Wayne County General Hospital and plans for a second Juvenile Court and Youth Home west of Detroit.

Although supervisors are elected for two-year terms, a recently-adopted State law requires them to choose their chairman and vice chairman annually. Members of the Board of Supervisors will be up for election in the fall of 1970.

Zak attributed his gain of support among board members to the fact that "we've gotten to know each other a lot better through working together." He said he believed crime prevention would be the major problem facing government during the 1970s.

Nesbit, Davis Star Against Ecorse

Romulus Gets Crack At Rouge, 1st

TWIN VALLEY

Team	W	L
Rouge	1	0
Romulus	1	1
Willow Run	1	1
Ecorse	0	1

With Frank Nesbit and Nate Davis turning in one of their best performances of the year, Romulus shook off a stubborn Ecorse quintet Friday night to remain in contention for the Twin-Valley Conference championship.

Coach. Al Duva's Eagles

will challenge Rouge Friday night on the Panther court for league supremacy. A Romulus loss would considerably dampen the Eagle quintet's hopes for a championship league year.

Romulus over came some serious flaws Friday night before it finally unwound. They visit league-leading River Rouge this Friday night.

In defeating the Red Raiders, the Eagles had to overcome foul trouble, poor shooting and a large number of turnovers, especially the third quarter.

The exciting victory, viewed by a jam-packed throng who screamed from buzzer-to-buzzer, might be the spark which ignites Coach Al Duva's squad.

Last year Romulus had several near misses against Ecorse and River Rouge but Duva is hopeful of a reversal of form this season.

Ecorse led for almost three quarters before Romulus aroused itself from its lethargy and outscored the Red Raiders 24-14 in the last nine minutes of the game to notch the triumph.

The story of the game was Nate Davis, the 6-foot-4 junior forward for the Eagles, who swarmed over both backboards, hauling in 16 rebounds and dropping in 21 points.

Davis, who has "a nose for the ball," as Coach Duva says, helped bring the host squad back from 30-25 and (Continued on 2nd Sports)

IN THE AIR—As a startled Dennis Smith (21) looks on, Romulus' Frank Nesbit (52) moves in on the ball. Nesbit, who scored 12 points against the Raiders, helped Romulus turn back a stubborn Ecorse quintet 73-64 for the Eagles' first Twin Valley victory in two league starts.

Coach Dave Court and the Huron Chiefs started the new decade the same way they left off the old one—with decisive victories.

The Chiefs, who now stand 8-2 on the season, turned back Monroe Catholic Central for their fourth league victory in six starts and bombed Airport 75-50 to remain in the conference title race.

No team has come within 20 points of coach Court's team in the past five games.

Monroe Catholic Central made a game of it for the first eight minutes when it stayed within range 26-14 but Huron's balance scoring attack provided by 6-8 pivotman Rick Wasilewski, Joe Richert, Don Mittlestat, Randy Gorham and Butch Suemnick was just too much.

Wasilewski drilled in 10 field goals and seven free throws for 27 points to top all scorers. Teammates Richert and Mittlestat chipped in 16 and 13 points, respectively, while Suemnick and Gorham had 12 and nine.

Huron pulled away to a 53-30 halftime margin and was out of sight by the end of the third frame, 72-44.

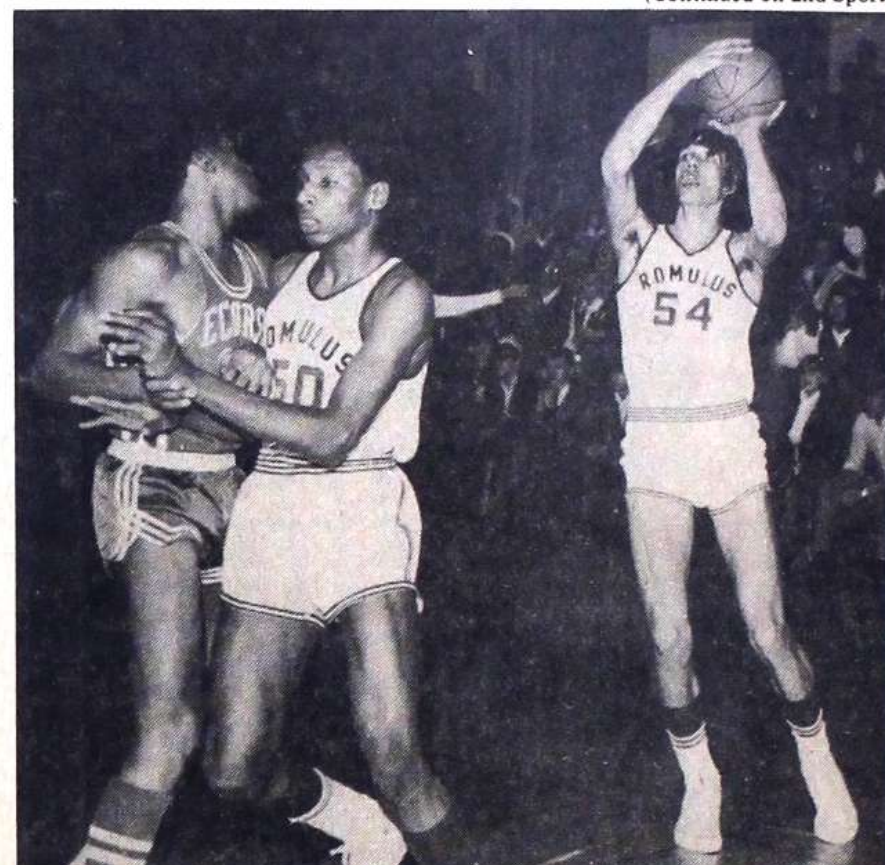

"I feel this was our best ball game thus far," said coach Court afterwards. "We definitely have jelled."

Huron, however, found it difficult to shake Airport in the latter's small gym. The host stunned the Chiefs by grabbing a 19-15 first quarter lead.

The Chiefs, with Suemnick counting 10 of his 20 points in the second quarter, regained their poise and were in control 32-29 at intermission.

Coach Court's quintet never surrendered the initiative after the half. Though Airport hung on uncomfortably close, it never saw the lead again.

The Chiefs, after holding a (Continued on 2nd Sports)

FIRING LINE—Romulus Southpaw Roy Szyndler (54) is on the launching pad as Nate Davis (50) moves in for the rebound and by doing so provides some blocking for his teammate. Szyndler was on target for 15 points in a 73-64 Romulus triumph over Ecorse. The Eagles head for Rouge Friday night to see what the Panthers are made of this season.

Romulus Too Much For East

Romulus coach Jim Stallings knew it was only a matter of time that his grapplers would muscle their way into the winning column and the time arrived Friday when the Eagles outwrestled nonleague rival, Garden City East, 32-14.

The victory slashed

Romulus' losing streak at three.

Russell Reaume, a veteran of three mat campaigns, continued his outstanding performance as he won his 15th verdict in 16 bouts by over-powering East's 185-pounder Leo Gedulsky, 3-0.

Teammate Tim Sypula pinned Dale Shipley in 1:36 of the initial period to provide the Eagles with the final five points.

With Southgate, a newcomer to the prep wrestling circuit on the Romulus menu Thursday, the Eagles should have little difficulty carding another victory.

East yielded the first four weight classes to the Eagles as Romulus' 95-pounder Charles Decker floored Tim Pisarski in 3:37 and Dennis Decormier (107) disposed of Ted Wheeler in 1:36 while Gregory Stephens decisioned Bob Bartosh 10-0.

In a well fought match, Julian Williams managed to come up on top of a close 2-1 decision over Jim Fugabon in the 123 weight class.

East's Gary Webb put a halt to the losing string when he outwrestled his 130-pound rival, Ken Kelley, 22-2.

But Romulus' Mike Cross came back to decision Tom Debozy, 8-2, in the 137 pound category.

Steve Jasinski carded the Panthers' lone victory via a pin when he finished off 145-pounder Mike Abdo in 5:35. East's Ralph McCloud, however, fell on the shortend of a 5-4 decision to 155-pounder John Arrington.

Dave Brown got a good workout with East's Don Bentley who struggled 2:20 before giving in to the Eagle 165-pounder. Marvin Williams lost to East's 175-pounder, Jerry Wright, 12-2, to round out the scoring.

within four points of tying up the game.

But playing catch up ball can be dangerous. Allen Park's Dale Cabuaton got away with a couple of easy layups to pull his team out of danger.

Thanks to Garrade Pettus' shooting and Rick Mussehl's rebounding, Belleville stayed abreast with their rivals and even worked its way to a 15-13 opening quarter advantage.

Allen Park, with balance scoring, came back to gain control of a 40-39 halftime margin and was ahead 57-49 at the end of the third.

Pettus made his New Year's debut a successful one as he dumped in 10 fielders for 20 points to lead all scorers. Also in double figures for the Tigers were Miller, with 13; Rick Mussehl and Mike Garland, with 10 points apiece.

A combination of a cold streak and turnovers in the third period left Belleville trailing its visitors by as much as 11 points.

Sophomore Marty Miller, who came off the bench in the last minutes of the initial half, helped the Tigers erase the deficit in the final frame as he drilled in 11 of his 13 points to bring his team

Allen Park Dunks Tiger Swim Team

Allen Park snared nine of 11 first places in a convincing 69-32 slacking of Belleville tankers last week. It was coach Bill Brandell's Tigers' second loss in three starts in the Suburban Six Conference.

The medley relay team of Richard Baird, Terry Mills, Jeff Fyre and Bob Coppock carded a 1:58.1 to capture the opening event for the Tigers.

Freestyler Chet Meyer carded a 52.5 to win the 100 yard freestyle event.

Bert's Perfect

That Mr. X guy, who picks prep cage team results, better take lessons from our man in Belleville—Bert Osterberg. Believe it or not, Osterberg had a Perfect Week.

He picked 12 out of 12, including that big upset by St. Mary's of Wayne over Southwest title pretender, Mt. Carmel of Wyandotte. (And Manny, you KNOW that was an upset).

How's Mr. X doing? He just ain't!

And leave it to Manny's Blue Knights to spoil the week for us. We picked 11 of 12 last week and missed that BIG UPSET.

Wonder if the St. Mary's coach has ever considered taking his team to a psychiatrist? Maybe he (the psychiatrist) can figure out how the Knights can beat a title contender, then lose to a cellar-dweller all in one week.

Oh, yes, before I forget: got a cage problem thrown at me by Mrs. Doug Myers, wife of the Wayne Memorial High School cage coach

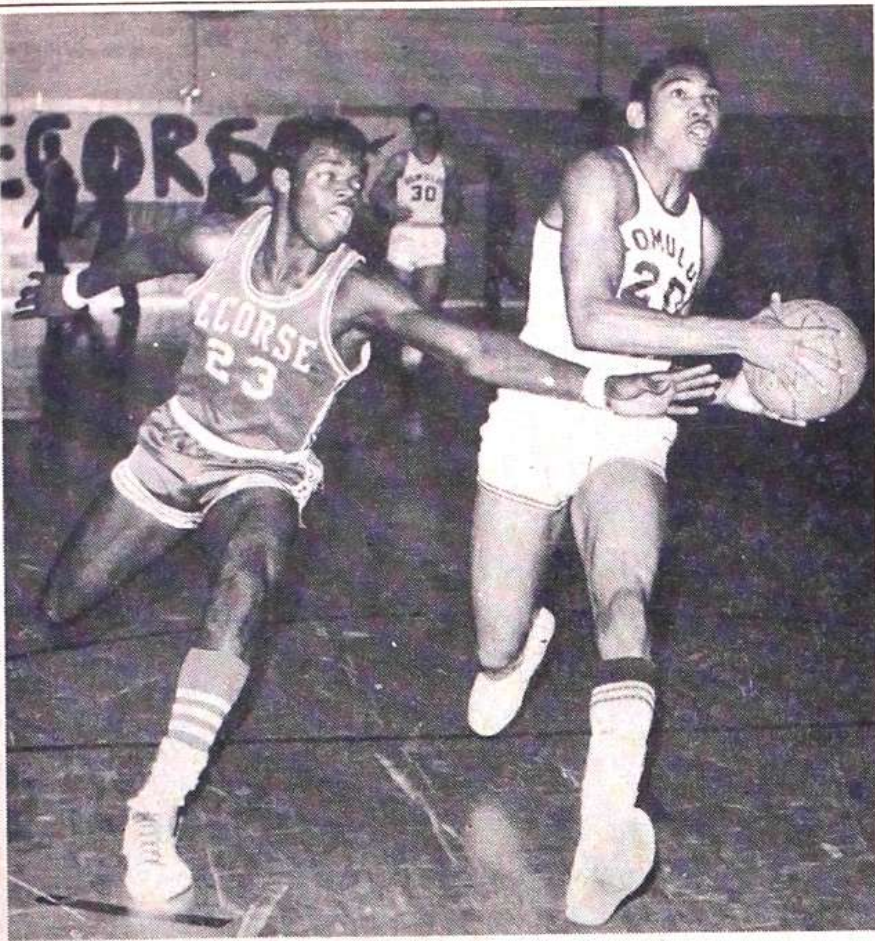

Here it is: "If your team has the ball in the offensive zone and the ball goes out of bounds at the base line and when play resumes your player tosses the ball over the heads of his teammates and it (the ball, not the heads) lands in the defensive zone without anyone touching it, and if one of your players picks up the ball; QUESTION—Is it over and back?"

If you can figure out the paragraph and find the answer, how about phoning (or writing) us?

Boy, these wives, they sure can stir up more work for us men folks, can't they?

Look what Miss Vicki has done for what's it's name. Only she really knows.

OUT OF REACH—Ecorse's Mike Thomas (23) makes a final bid to block Romulus' Charles Johnican (20) as he heads for a "dog shot". Johnican wound up with 15 points for the night and the victory.

Winter Sports Facilities Excellent At Area Parks

Winter sports enthusiasts are expected to find excellent facilities at all Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks.

John K. Sterling, Jr., HCMA information officer, stated that often snow cover varies from park to park and that sometimes use also affects conditions of such facilities as hills for sledding or tobogganing. Therefore, he suggests that park users contact the various park offices by using the phone numbers below to obtain the most current information available.

Metropolitan Beach near Mount Clemens. Ice is from 5 to 8 inches thick on the canals, boat basins and Lake St. Clair. Perch fishing is popular. Skating is permitted on the Boat Basins or at the rinks near the Food Bar. The food bar is open daily from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Weather permitting, night skating is available Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Park hours are 8 a.m. to dusk. For weather conditions phone 963-3022 (DETROIT LINE) or 463-4581 (MT. CLEMENS).

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park north of Utica—Reports 6 to 7 inches of ice over Stony Creek Lake in the 3,500 acre park. Fishing is reported fair, with only a few ice shanties on the Lake. The ice rinks are open, with a warming shelter nearby. Snow cover is 3 to 4 inches supplying sufficient snow for sledding or tobogganing. There are no developed toboggan runs.

The park's nature trails and nature center are open daily, except Monday. The nature center is open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and afternoons Tuesday through Friday.

For recreation facility conditions phone 781-4242 (Washington Exchange).

winter sports area are ideal for tobogganing and sledding, with five toboggan runs in use plus hills for sleds. There is a warming shelter at the site.

The park's several nature trails and nature center are open daily. On Saturday and Sunday the nature center is open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and afternoons Tuesday through Friday. Trails are labelled for self-guided hikes.

The park hours are daylight to 11 p.m. For facility conditions phone 685-1561 (MILFORD Exchange).

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville—The primary attraction here are three small ponds used for ice skating. There are moderate slopes for sledding. Skating hours are 10 a.m. to 11 p.m., weather permitting. For additional information phone 697-9181 (BELLEVILLE).

Tests conducted by the National Safety Council on a glare ice course have disclosed that conventional snow tires provide only a small improvement in pulling ability as compared with regular tires, and reinforced tires chains develop about seven times the pull of regular tires. Regardless of the type of traction device employed, however, the Michigan Safety Commission reminds motorists that high speeds on intermittent icy pavements can end in interment.

Area Hockey Teams Opens Fund Drive

BELLEVILLE—A campaign to raise funds to finance ice facilities for the "Belleville Tigers," an area hockey team, was announced Monday by Malcolm A. Kuhn, co-coach of the team. Kuhn resides at 250 Liberty Street. He reported that the hockey team which was started two months ago now has 20 members. The players are high school students and played in a Juvenile Division that includes boys ranging in age of eight to 18 years old. Ice facilities required to play the game are not immediately available in the Belleville area.

The team must pay from $35 to $40 per hour to use ice areas out of the city ice.

TEAM MEMBERS have traveled to Jackson, Mich., Wyandotte and Livonia to play hockey.

Co-coach of the Belleville Tigers is Richard

Larson of Westland. Both coaches are experienced hockey players having played during their high school and college days.

Kuhn reported that the team played at Livonia ice facilities, located off Merriman Road at West Chicago last Saturday, Jan. 3 and won by a score of three to two.

THEY HAVE another game scheduled in Ann Arbor, today, Wednesday, Jan. 14 at Puh Park, located on Packard Road.

Persons who want to assist can reach Kuhn at 697-9630, or Larson at 729-2597.

Romulus At Rouge

(Continued from 1st Sports) 40-35 deficits. Then, with Frank Nesbit and Roy Szyndlar aiding on both boards and dropping in points, Romulus spurred to a 53-50 lead just at the end of the third quarter.

The turning point of the game probably came with 6:12 left in the game and Romulus struggling to hold its 57-55 lead. In rapid-fire succession, Charles Johnican, Szyndlar, Davis and Brian Shockley hit on four consecutive offensive thrusts to increase Romulus' bulge to 65-55 and that was the ballgame.

Balanced scoring by Johnican (15), Szyndlar (15), Nesbit (12) and Shockley (8) turned the tide. Mike Thomas led Ecorse with 18 points and Glen Wilkerson added 16, but the key to Romulus' defense was holding dangerous guard Dennis Smith to a mere 7 points.

The Eagles had a non-conference contest with East Detroit last night (Tuesday) in search of their fifth win in six starts.

Now its on to River Rouge Friday night and the big one!

Romulus Resident Elected By Child Guidance Clinic

ROMULUS—The Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic, 6221 Merriman Road, Garden City, announced in their December newsletter that Romulus resident, Mrs. Clarissa Brown had been elected to the Clinic Board of Directors.

Mrs. Brown, who is a third grade teacher at Romulus Elementary School, is a Romulus resident and has contributed her time to many committees and projects in behalf of her community and school district.

She was welcomed to the Board along with Robert M. Johnson, DDS (Redford), and Reverend Robert S. Shank Jr. (Plymouth).

The Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic was established in 1963, serves 17 communities with a total population of more than a half million people, 248,000 who are children between five and 19 years. (According to 1966 school census).

THE CLINIC has a staff of eleven people headed by Soine Torma, executive director. They service 500 children and parents a year, said Torma.

The Clinic is supported by the Michigan State Department of Mental Health in contract with the Detroit-Wayne County Mental Health Services Board.

The primary objective of the Clinic is to serve the communities of Northwestern Wayne County by providing diagnosis and treatment for children under 18 years who exhibit behavior problems or personality disorders indicative of emotional disturbance.

THEIR WORK, according to Torma, is done both on a referral basis through the schools and on a personal basis with concerned parents detecting incipient problems and making an appointment for an interview.

The cost of the service is moderate, with the amount varying depending upon income and other family obligations.

No child, however, is denied care because of the inability of the family to pay for treatment.

Schools Seek Secretary

ROMULUS—The Romulus Community School District is seeking a secretary.

Applicants must be experienced, mature, personable and skill in typing and shorthand. Starting salary is $6,435 per year.

Apply in person at the Board of Education offices, 11401 Olive Street, or telephone 941-1600.

Stockmeyer Heads WSU Governors

WAYNE—The Wayne State University Board of Governors at its monthly meeting (Thursday, Jan. 8) re-elected Norman O. Stockmeyer, 38402 Glenwood, Wayne, as chairman of the Board for 1970.

Stockmeyer has served as full chairman of the Board since 1967, with the exception of a brief period in 1969 when he shared a dual chairmanship with the late Benjamin M. Rose.

A Detroit real estate man and investment executive, Stockmeyer was appointed to the Board of Governors by former Gov. George Romney in January, 1964, filling the unexpired term of Benjamin D. Burdick who was named a circuit judge in the fall of 1963.

Stockmeyer was elected to a full six-year term in the November, 1968 election, leading in the number of votes polled by the candidates for the Board. He received a B.A. degree from WSU in 1929 and an M.B.A. from Harvard University in 1932.

In other action, the Board of Governors re-appointed Executive Vice President Edward L. Cushman to the post of treasurer for the University Dr. E.J. Forsythe was re-named Secretary to the Board.

Furniture Needs Care And Polish

Care given to furnishings is important in prolonging life and getting the maximum use from each item. Proper care is necessary in keeping furniture looking new and fresh, even after years of use.

Here are some tips in caring for your furniture taken from the American Furniture Mart's "Home Decorating Guide Book."

*Avoid exposing wood surfaces to extreme heat, cold or humidity.

*Use only the polishes recommended for furniture. A self-polishing floor wax, when used on furniture, will soften the finish.

*Avoid exposing indoor furniture to strong sunlight. Even though the finishing materials are made as fade-proof as possible, the wood itself underneath the finish may change in color from prolonged exposure.

*Always lift objects when moving them. Never drag furniture across a finished surface.

*Laminated plastic surfaces may be washed regularly. Use mild soap. Protect such surfaces from extreme heat. Do not slice and cut on the surface.

*Washing of wood surfaces must be done carefully and should be limited to not more than once a year. Use a sudsy mixture and water with a clean, soft cloth. Do not wet joints inasmuch as glued parts might become loosened. Work fast, on a small area and dry quickly.

*Carbon tetrachloride is harmful to foam rubber padding. Always use it lightly on the surface of fabrics.

Lamps Are Perfect To Complete a Mood

Lamp designers today are creating lamps that will go anywhere and match any period — according to a preview of the new offerings to be introduced at the January Home Furnishings Market at the American Furniture Mart.

New modern lighting fixtures in a wide range of geometric designs are styled to complement a room without having to match the furnishings.

With the eclectic look continuing in popularity, a homemaker with a traditional room may add a note of modern with a clear acrylic table lamp, hanging fixture or floor model.

Or, she may select a touch of the Orient, Spain, Latin America or the Federal period of Early America to offset the traditional look and, at the same time, enhance its appeal.

If the room is modern, a more traditional fixture will offer a tie to the past as well preventing the room from looking too cold.

Today's lamps also have the function of being decorative touches in themselves. Several firms are offering lamps that are round balls of light, or mushroom-shaped and used in pairs or trios. These lamps can be used in place of other art objects to serve a dual purpose.

Although most designers still maintain a distance between the formal and informal furniture styles, within the styles they combine all periods of furniture to create living areas with wide appeal. Lamps are the finishing touches to spotlight these areas and set the mood for their use.

The Michigan State Safety Commission points out that a new blade for shaving can be a face-saver, but a new windshield wiper blade can be a lifesaver.

Patios Add Beauty To Apartments

Many factors have given birth to the rising apartment population: convenience, a growing number of empty nesters and childless young marrieds, increasing land and construction costs, and a desire to shuck home maintenance chores. But, despite these reasons, some people resisted apartment living because it typified certain "urban" disadvantages.

Now, however, new trends in multi-family construction are winning over many of the undecided. What's swinging the vote are attractive garden and townhouse apartments which combine the best apartment conveniences with single-family home features, open spaces and suburban greenery.

One example of the trend is the extensive use of patios, decks and balconies — to introduce an aura of country living and give tenants a private "piece" of the outdoors. To take full advantage of exterior extensions, most apartments feature sliding glass patio doors. These open apartment interiors to sunlight and air, afford appealing views (which most urban dwellings lack), and provide easy access to the outdoors.

Sliding patio doors of ponderosa pine are popular choices for apartments. Because they come in stock sizes and are obtainable with tempered insulating glass, they are economically feasible for builders to use. Insulating glass in weatherstripped wood sash is considered maximum protection against heat loss and condensation. This means more comfort and convenience for tenants; less heating and air conditioning bills for owners. Bonus attraction of the wood sash is that it can be painted different colors inside and out to match interior and exterior decor. Tempered glass provides an extra measure of safety — an area of prime concern to tenants and owners alike.

The modern apartment emphasis on country living can also be seen in the on-site recreational facilities provided by many multi-family communities. These range from swimming pools and tennis courts to riding trails and golf courses.

Square Can Be Patterned

A square can become a diamond, a rectangle, a stripe of a triangle, according to the Better Floors Council. These shapes can be attained by adding squares of tile together to make rectangles or stripes or by cutting a square in half, making a triangle.

Various combinations of tile offer almost unlimited design possibilities. The Council said, "With a little imagination, you can have a custom design floor".

An excellent spot for a complicated tile design is the foyer, designs can be quite complex here. Do not, however, let the colors and the pattern conflict with those in adjoining rooms. Tile is so inexpensive, the Council says, that you can treat yourself to new colors with little damage to your budget.

Tile Should Match China

For those planning to install a vinyl asbestos tile floor for the dining room, the Better Floors Council suggests a contrasting border placed several rows in from the wall for full effectiveness.

It should not be so far in, however, that it is hidden by the table.

Council decoators suggest using a border color to match some accessory.

Free Film Programs Offered to Residents

The second half of The Detroit News Travel Club
Film Series started Monday, Jan. 12, with a Western European tour from France to Holland.

The free program, offered as a public service, is shown at 6 p.m. and repeated at 8 p.m. in The Detroit News
Auditorium of the WWJ Building, Lafayette between Second and Third.

The January program begins in Paris, moves to the surrounding French Provinces before continuing on to tiny Luxembourg, dynamic and scenic Germany and finally

Holland in an unusual film presentation of the winter season.

Travel Club programs, presented every month,
October through May, offer
Detroit area residents exciting glimpses of other parts of the world and provide tips and ideas for those anticipating travel abroad.

Admission is free and neither tickets nor advance reservations are necessary.
Convenient parking is located nearby.

***
Stockholm is the capital of Sweden.

the Studio North is in line with the new wave of youth oriented films of the "Easy Rider" and "Midnight Cowboy" ilk and has to rate as one of the best anti-war films ever made.

It stages World War I as an English music hall turn, setting it as a carnival on the boardwalk at Brighton Pier.
All of the wonderfully nostalgic World War I music is there but it serves merely as a counterpoint to an increasingly deafening tempo which proclaims the entire war to be a foolish one run by fools.

The pointlessness of the internal struggle for a few yards of ground from one trench to the next, stretching over four years, is spread out in a panoply of futility and disgust, rather than bloodshed. There is little violence; instead the sight of poppies, the sort that grows in Flanders Field, symbolizes imminent death.

Britain's military leaders, Douglas Haig et al, are seen as totally incomprehensible of what they are doing, but the screenplay sensibly plays down the stage interpretation of them as bloodthirsty savages which reduced them almost to cardboard.

Laurence Olivier, John
Mills, Michael and Vanessa Redgrave, Dirk Bogarde and many others — a who's who of English moviedom — appear in roles ranging from cameos up. Both settings and music are brilliantly and colorfully handled. "Oh!
What a Lovely War" is outstanding both as to import and entertainment.

"Hello Dolly," Americana, on the other hand, is rich in the tradition of mainstream American musicals, which lately have become so opulent and expensive they are threatening to price themselves out of existence.

Considering that musicals have been doing good business on reasonable budgets for 40 years, one wonders if it really is necessary to spend millions.
Maybe so. "Hello Dolly" has made it on Broadway strictly as a star vehicle with a not so distinguished book watered down from Thornton Wilder's

"Matchmaker," but sheer, overwhelming excesses of practically everything have made the film impressive in spite of itself.

Barbra Streisand successfully overcomes several handicaps in her interpretation of the title role. Dolly was never meant to be such a young woman and her accent is nothing near what you'd expect from a lady born Dolly Gallagher.
But her flair for comedy is unabated and what she can do to a song nobody else can do, so anything more may be carping. Walter Matthau, the penny-pinching target of her matchmaking, scores also.

You can't quarrel with the title song scene at the Harmonia Gardens. Dolly's entrance was one of the great moments on the stage and it's going to be one of the great moments on the screen, also.

Even the score, which failed to impress the first time it was rendered at the Fisher, seems brighter — perhaps sheer repetition has added some stature to it.

There is an old line about
"just think what God could have done with the world if he had money" which may apply here. A good musical can be seen again and again without tiring. Opulence and all, that's "Dolly."

The Detroit Repertory
Theatre is to be commended for its willingness to experiment but the results are occasionally quite bizarre — and bizarre is a charitable word to describe their current production of Luigi Pirandello's "Naked."

Pirandello is usually concerned with the problems of reality and illusion. Here he takes a woman who has just attempted suicide following the complications of an affair with her married employer and the accidental death of the employer's infant child, and slowly, amid a mixture of lies and truth, peels back the layers which enfold the heroine's real motivation, until, three acts later, the truth stands revealed in all its pristine — well, that explains the title anyway.

"Naked" is not one of Pirandello's best to begin with.
Any play with dialogue like,
"They're all around me.
They're everywhere. Where can I go?" has to sound like a fugitive from the late, late show. And Bruce Millan's staging makes a bad thing worse. He puts in all the tremolo of grand opera and his heroine, Barbara Busby has all the subtlety of a Wagnerian Valkyrie.

The DRT production of "Naked" needs covering up.

Let Child Know What to Expect

"If your child knows you expect him to obey, you're apt to get much better response," contends Mrs. Kathleen Bufton, extension home economist for Wayne and Oakland counties.

"Make as few demands as possible," she says, "but be sure that these demands are carried out. Otherwise children will soon get in the habit of paying no attention. "Remember that more flies are caught with honey. You get more done with this approach, and you also teach your child the habit of cooperation. Losing your temper will only cause him to lose his too, or teach him to hold a grudge," Mrs. Bufton continues.

Piggins Talks About 'Crime Control'

Interested Plymouth residents are invited to hear Judge Edward S. Piggins speak to the Greater Northville Republican Club at the group's regular meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Thursday in Northville City Council Chambers.

Judge Piggins will speak on "Crime Control," from a jurist's point of view.

He has a long distinguished career of public service. For the last 10 years Piggins has acted as Wayne County Circuit Judge and was Detroit Police Commissioner for four years prior to his bench appointment.

While on the Circuit bench he was selected to serve one-man Grand Juror for Wayne County.

Judge Piggins is married and has three sons. He is a member of many civic and professional organizations including the American, Michigan and Detroit Bar Associations.

For additional information call Mrs. E. O. Weber, 349-9971.

Obituaries

JEWELL, Mabel Mae, 820 Sheldon, died Saturday in Wayne County General Hospital. She was 80. Mrs. Jewell was born April 26, 1889 in Stevensville and came to the Plymouth community two years ago from Buchanan. She is survived by a son, Donald R. of Plymouth; a daughter, Mrs. Charles Root of Plymouth; one brother, Robert Dunham of Drayton Plains; a half-brother, Jerome Dunham of Seattle, Wash.; a step-sister, Mrs. Paul Kean of Benton Harbor; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She was a member of Royal Neighbors in St. Joseph. Funeral services were conducted yesterday morning from Schrader Funeral Home. The Rev. Henry J. Walch, D.D. officiated. Interment was in Stevensville Cemetery, Stevensville.

Mrs. Richard Hively of Plymouth; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Russell Miller of Plymouth; two sisters, Mrs. Erich Knorfske of Westland and Mrs. William Beek of Taylor and seven grandchildren. Mr. Miller came to the Plymouth community in 1958 from Garden City. He was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Funeral services were conducted from Schrader Funeral Home. The Rev. Leonard J. Koeniger officiated. Interment was in Northview Cemetery, Dearborn.

HAY, Dallas F., 9111 Morrison Ave., died Dec. 19 in Sarasota, Florida following a short illness. He was 71. He was born Jan. 30, 1898 in Perth, Scotland. Mr. Hay came to the Plymouth-Livonia community in 1938 and was Livonia's first Police Commissioner. Until his retirement, Mr. Hay was a water commissioner and a director of Livonia's civil defense. He is survived by his wife, Mavis; a daughter, Mrs. Clifford Boyd of Vanderbilt; three sons, D. Donald of Plymouth, Henry James of Olivet and Robert of Atlanta, Georgia; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Funeral services were conducted from Schrader Funeral Home. The Rev. Henry J. Walch officiated. Interment was in Cadillac Memorial Cemetery, Westland.

RUSH, Garnett G., 335 Blunk St., died Dec. 26 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. He was 62. He is survived by his wife, Lela; two brothers, Cecil J. of Allen Park and Earl L. of Stoney Creek, Ontario; a sister, Mrs. Myrtle March of Philadelphia; and one grandchild. He was preceded in death by one son, Wallace, who passed away in January, 1969. Mr. Rush came to the Plymouth community 33 years ago from Detroit. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church, Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A.M. and the Michigan Mens Apparel Club. A Masonic Memorial Service was held last Monday evening. Funeral services were conducted last Tuesday from the Schrader Funeral Home. The Rev. Henry J. Walch, D.D. officiated. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Last Day Is Feb. 28

Plymouth taxpayers can pay current taxes until Feb. 28 with no delinquent penalty, City Treasurer Kenneth Way has announced.

The treasurer received authorization from the City Commission to eliminate the collection of penalties on the 1969 school and county tax during the period Feb. 14 through Feb. 28.

Charges Dropped

Charges of assault and battery were dropped against three teen-age girls Monday in District Court.

Jan R. McIntosh Morgan, 17, of Westland; Debbie Scott, 17, of 1932 Brookline and Diana Morgan, 17, of 476 Roe Street were charged by Kristine Lynn Bird, 871 Arthur, of assault on Dec. 4.

The three pleaded not guilty at their Dec. 15 arraignment.

Warriors Win 1st In SHL

Westland's Warriors defeated Dearborn Heights 6-3 in the Suburban Hockey League to make their debut in the Pee Wee Division a successful one.

Jim Bradley scored two goals and also accounted for two assists to pace the victor's attack. Teammate Ricky Wolfe also fired in a pair of goals.

Jim West and Dick Stola accounted for the other two scores.

Getting credit for assists were Ralph Dries, Mark Majewski, and West. Coach Ken West's teams overall record for the season is 1-2-1. He's also getting some excellent goal-minding from Chuck Latour.

2 Local Lodges Set Joint Installation

BELLEVILLE—The Grand Master of the State of Michigan's International Order of Oddfellows (I.O.O.F.) Clarence Murry of Port Huron, Mich., will attend the joint installation of officers of the Oddfellows and Astral Rebekah Lodges on Saturday, Jan. 17, at 8 p.m.

The Installing Staff of District No. 7 will install the newly elected officers of Astral Rebekah Lodge No.

250 and Galaxy Oddfellows Lodge No. 384. Herbert E. Mida and Vera Mida will head the installation programs.

All Oddfellows and Rebekahs are requested to attend this joint installation.

Murry's scheduled visit to the local lodges and the attendance of officers of the Rebekah Assembly is the second in years, Mida, past district grand master of District No. 7, reported.

Senior Citizens Elect New Slate

ROMULUS—The Romulus Senior Citizens Club greeted the New Year 1970 with an election of Officers.

The new officers are as follows: Elmer Wagonbach, president; Celeste Fisher, vice-president; Maude Malone, treasurer; Melissa Bell, vice-treasurer; Sadie Sumpter, recording secretary; Leona Love, assistant secretary; Ethel LeMar, financial secretary; Bertha Leonard, club reporter.

A special "Welcome" was presented to Eddie Wallace and Sadie Story as new Members.

Plans are underway for new Project activities for entertainment in the months ahead. A special "Welcome-back" was issued to former members, senior Citizens interested in joining the organization are asked to call: 941-6565.

Bell Returns From Vietnam

William D. Bell, 21, son of Melissa Bell, returned home Jan. 5, from two years service in Vietnam, in the 25th Headquarters Infantry Division of U.S. Army.

Area Students Win EMU Honors

YPSILANTI—A reception honoring the 87 new members of the Stoic Society at Eastern Michigan University was held at the Alumni Lounge of McKenny Union on January 13.

Area residents who were inducted into the society were: Steven Slack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Slack of 28961 Birchwood in Inkster; Kenneth Teasdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Teasdale of 27094 Lucerne in Inkster; Linda A. VanStrien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin VanStrien of 28876 Hathaway in Livonia, Stephanie R. Caid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Caid of 14627 Robinwood in Plymouth, Conrad L. Painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Painter of 10580 Harrison in Romulus and Roberta Politz, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Politz of 9735 Marc in Romulus.

The Stoic Society is the oldest continuous honorary society at EMU and has a history dating back to 1909.

New members are selected from all scholastically-eligible sophomores and juniors by recommendations of fellow students and faculty members.

Moline Elected Head Of GOP Committee

WESTLAND—Keith Moline, 32-year old executive director of Detroit's Central Business District, has been unanimously elected chairman of the Wayne County Republican Committee.

An Escanaba native, Moline was unopposed to succeed Henry R. Sladek who resigned late last year when he moved out of Wayne County.

Moline graduated from Northern Michigan University in 1962 and immediately put his political science degree to work as Director of Organization for Southeast Michigan, a position sponsored by the Republican State Central Committee.

***

DURING THE 1964 Presidential campaign, he was Regional vice-chairman (16 Midwest states) of the Rockefeller for President Committee.

In 1965, Moline was an RSCC field representative in the 11th Congressional District and the next year became instrumental in the early organization of Phil Ruppe's congressional campaign.

May, 1966, found Moline directing scheduling for the Senatorial campaign of Robert P. Griffin, and in November of that year, he helped rebuild the Milwaukee County organization for the Republican Party of Wisconsin.

Moline was Executive Director of the Wayne County Republican Committee from May, 1967, until he was named by the Central Business District last year.

The new Wayne County GOP chairman and his wife, Peg, reside at 30650 Warren Road, Westland.

Annual precipitation in Australia is 18 inches.

Petpourri

By Mike Murray

The Terrier Club of Michigan's annual election of officers and dinner meeting will be held at Skipper's Table, 33201 Plymouth Road in Livonia on Saturday at 5 p.m.

The Scottish Terrier Club of Michigan's annual dinner meeting, to be held on January 24 at Greenfield's Restaurant in Oak Park will feature Mrs. David Eadie of Madison Heights, who will speak on the subject of whelping puppies. Further information on both meetings is available from Mrs. Cynthia Wallgren at 646-4570.

A limit of 700 entries has been set for the Macomb County Kennel Club's All-Breed Show to be held on Sunday, February 8 at the Warren Woods High School, 13400 Twelve Mile Road in Warren. If this limit is not reached earlier, entries will close on Tuesday, January 27, with the Superintendent, Bow Dog Shows, 9999 Broadstreet, Detroit, 48204.

Pontiac Kennel Club's All Breed Show will be held on Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Waterford Oaks Activities Building at 2700 Watkins Lake Road in Pontiac. A total of 608 dogs are entered.

Send all news of recent show wins, new arrivals, etc. to Mike Murray, c/o Associated Newspapers, 2211 North Wayne Road in Westland or call 273-7125.
